Three Chicago Youths Tortured, Slain

Brutal Crime Is Attributed To "Madman"

Nude, Blood-Flecked
Bodies Of Trio Found
In Forest Area Ditch

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—The naked, mutilated bodies of three boys were found piled in a forest ditch northwest of Chicago's city limits today.

Discovery of the ghastly crime—attributed by authorities to either a madman or a gang of older youths—set into motion the area's most widespread investigation of its kind in perhaps a quarter century.

The coroner's office reported following an autopsy that strangulation caused the death of all three, although they also had been cut or beaten on the head.

Deputy Coroner Harry Glos said the autopsy showed also that the youngsters had not been molested sexually, as police first believed.

Missing Since Sunday
A coroner's pathologist, Dr. Jerry Kearns, said the boys had been dead since Sunday night, a few hours after they left their comfortable but modest homes on the Northwest Side to attend a movie in downtown Chicago.

County, city and state police termed the grisly slaying one of the most brutal in Chicago history. Coroner Walter McCarron called it "the work of a madman" but said he also was considering the possibility that a teen-age gang abducted the children, then killed them for fear of being told on and caught.

The boys' slender bodies, piled one on top of another with their legs intermingled, were discovered in a ditch in the Robinson Woods section of the forest preserve at Lawrence Ave. and River rd., 10 miles northwest of Chicago's Loop.

Salesman Finds Bodies
They were lying on their backs, smudged with blood and mud.

Young Peterson had been cut 14 times on the head. The other two boys had been hit on the face with what the coroner's office said apparently was the flat part of a knife.

However, Glos said, marks on their necks showed the Schuessler brothers were strangled by hands, and Peterson was strangled with a cord or rope.

Victor Livingston, a Chicago liquor salesman, made the ghastly discovery. He drove into a driveway in the wooded area west of the city to eat his lunch and saw the forms in the ditch.

Russia To Talk For E. Germany

LONDON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Soviet Union indicated to the Big Three Western powers today that the Russians and not the East German Communists would deal with the West for the present on matters concerning communications between West Germany and Berlin.

Moscow sent notes to the Western powers outlining the role of the East Germans with regard to future talks on Germany and Allied rights in Berlin, which is an island far inside the Soviet zone.

Moscow radio said the notes stated that during talks between the Soviet Union and Communist Germany it was provided that control over movements of military personnel between West Germany and Berlin would be carried out by the Soviet military command in Germany "temporarily, until conclusion of an appropriate agreement."

It said that in signing their Sept. 20 treaty, the U.S.S.R. and East Germany took into consideration obligations assumed by both "under existing international agreements concerning Germany as a whole."

Wilson Planning Defense Job Cut

68,000 Civilian
Workers Facing
Unemployment

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson laid down some "general guidelines" on military spending today, and said he hopes they could add up to a saving of 500-million-dollars a year.

For one thing, he hopes to cut 68,000 civilian jobs off the defense agencies' payroll.

Unfolding his economy plan at a news conference, he remarked "it wouldn't quite say this would balance the budget." He explained that this is "just one little piece of it."

There is no intention of risking any impairment of the nation's defenses, but rather a "tighten up the job and do it a little better," Wilson said.

Pentagon "Full Of Reports"
He interjected with a chuckle that the huge Pentagon building "is full of reports saying that the military services can be more efficient... this is an effort to get it done."

Wilson said, "I'd like to see a little competition among the services to see who gets it done first."

Among other things, Wilson's guidelines call for a reduction of the civilians on the military payroll by about 68,000 by next June. Last July 31, civilian employees numbered 1,154,024.

Present plans for military spending in the fiscal year ending next June 30, are based on an estimate of 34½ billion dollars.

Balanced Budget In Doubt
Asked whether the half-billion dollar saving looked for in the new tightening-down could bring spending below the estimate, Wilson said:

"Some of it is necessary, or we wouldn't hit 34½."

When a reporter noted that the proposed saving "doesn't come close to the billion dollar cuts the budget balancers want," Wilson nodded in agreement, but said that if everybody works hard, "the savings could be considerable."

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has been calling for a concerted effort in all government agencies to reduce spending to the point the budget can be balanced.

Sides Of Truck Collapse, Spilling Women To Road

GOLDSBORO, N.C., Oct. 18 (AP)—The staked siding of a 1½-ton truck bed gave way on a curve under the weight of 72 women mental patients near here today.

Thirty were spilled onto the pavement and seven of them were hurt seriously.

The privately-owned truck was en route to a farm where the Negro patients from the state hospital for the insane here were to pick cotton.

Highway patrolman Earl Merritt said the truck was "overcrowded" and the truck sides were "not substantial."

He identified the driver as Lemuel H. Hines, owner of the farm. Merritt said Hines had only an operator's license, which does not authorize commercial transportation.

No charges were filed immediately.

Big Canadian Firm Hikes Newsprint Price $5 Ton

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—St. Lawrence Corp., a major Canadian paper manufacturer, announced today an increase of $5 a ton in the price of newsprint, effective Nov. 1.

Officials of a number of other newsprint companies refused to say whether they plan to follow the Montreal firm's lead.

The Justice Department in Washington said it was studying the pricing that is developing in the situation of newsprint. An official of the Antitrust Division declared: "We are not conducting an investigation as such, but we are studying the newsprint situation."

Simultaneously a Commerce Department official said that if the increase announced by the one producer is followed by others, the effect could be "harmful in many areas, particularly where publish-

Britain Splits With U.S. Over U.N. Election

Philippines, Backed
By Americans, Face
Loss To Yugoslavia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 18 (AP)—Britain split today with the United States over a hot contest between Yugoslavia and the Philippines for a seat on the U.N. Security Council.

The British spread the word through U.N. delegations they will support Yugoslavia when the Assembly convenes tomorrow to resume balloting. The United States served equally definite notice it will continue to support the Philippines to the end.

Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, veteran Philippine delegate who was rushed here from Manila to bolster the Philippine campaign, said he will not withdraw from the contest. He conferred with several delegates as U. N. corridors redounded to the talk about the election.

"Bataan Man Never Quits"
"I am a Bataan man—we never surrender," Romulo said.

Seasoned diplomats making a quick count of possible votes said the United States and the Philippines appeared in danger of losing a beating unless a political miracle occurred. They doubted it would.

The Americans, from Secretary of State Dulles and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., down to junior officials, have been trying to persuade Britain to change her mind and back the Philippines. But it was reported the British had informed the Americans they could not do so.

Geographical Issue
The issue involves geographical distribution of seats on the Security Council. The Philippines and Yugoslavia seek the Eastern European seat held by Turkey. Britain, backed by all of the European members of the U. N., contends this seat was allocated to Eastern Europe by a gentleman's agreement made in London in 1946 when the U. N. was being constituted.

The Europeans claim the Philippines are too far away to qualify as an Eastern European country. The Americans have contended this agreement was made for one year and has lapsed.

Atom Particle Which Can Annihilate Matter Found

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 18 (AP)—Discovery of a remarkable new atomic particle which can annihilate the basic building block of all matter was announced today by Prof. Ernest O. Lawrence, famed nuclear scientist.

Long sought as a means of explaining some of the mysteries of the physical universe, the particle was produced in the University of California's multibillion volt Bevatron by a team of experts in radiation research.

A joint announcement of the find also was made by the Atomic Energy Commission which financed the 9½ million-dollar Bevatron.

Although the particle is a potent annihilator of matter as we know it, it poses no threat to the material universe, no instrument that could be made into a disintegrator of matter.

Tortured, Slain By "Madman"

The blood-flecked bodies of these three boys were found nude and dumped in a ditch in a forest area just west of Chicago yesterday. The victims were (left to right) Robert Peterson, 14; John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton, 11. The youngsters had been missing since they left home to attend a movie Sunday. The coroner termed it the work of a "madman."

Plane Crashes Into Apartment, Killing Three

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 18 (AP)—A speed loving playboy, buzzing his plane over a crowded residential area, crashed into an apartment last night where a happy family was celebrating the christening of a baby.

The crash and searing explosion killed wealthy sportsman Joel Thorne, a longtime companion of speed and violence; an 18-year-old bride and the newly baptized infant. Nine other persons were injured, seven critically.

Eighteen others were in the apartment building.

Thorne, enroute to Las Vegas, Nev., crashed 12 minutes after takeoff from nearby Lockheed Air Terminal in an area normally reached in 30 seconds. The 40-year-old scion of a New York banking family buzzed so low over the neighborhood that scores of residents fled from their houses in alarm.

The playboy, long known for his stunting in the air, on the highway and in Hollywood night clubs, was burned beyond immediate identification in the fire that took half an hour to control.

The dead besides Thorne: Sherry Camille Preston, two months old. She had been baptized just hours before at St. Charles Roman Catholic Church.

Mrs. Betty Wolf, a newlywed, who was alone in her apartment above the one in which the christening party was held. Her husband was at a naval reserve meeting.

Atoms-For-Peace Agency Meeting Asked By Russia

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP)—The Soviet Union called today for a conference of experts regarding the proposed international agency to promote peaceful uses of atomic energy. Previous proposals suggested such a meeting only after establishment of the organization.

The Soviet bid was circulated in the U. N. General Assembly's Political Committee, which is considering four rival Russian, Indian and Western resolutions about the agency and a further world atomic energy conference like that held in Geneva Aug. 8-20.

USS Wisconsin Thrust Aground By Strong Tide

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—The 45,000 ton battleship Wisconsin today was thrust aground by a strong harbor tide, her second grounding here in a little more than four years.

Thirteen tugs pulled her off in 55 minutes, and she continued on her way, with engines "dead," to the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

A first Navy announcement gave the grounding time as 2½ hours. But that apparently came from someone on land, rather than on the ship.

Under tow, the Wisconsin had been moving very, very slowly from Bayonne, N. J., to the Navy yard in the East River for a general overhaul.

As she passed between Governors Island and the southern tip of Manhattan, a strong tide carried her out of channel and onto a shoal a thousand yards south of Brooklyn Bridge.

The Navy said that she was entirely under the control of a civilian pilot and civilian tugs.

The previous time the big battleship went aground here the length of time she was stuck also became a matter of debate.

The Navy version was that she spent one hour on a mudbank in the Hudson River off 79th St. when a strong wind and tide dragged her buoys.

Mamie "Briefs" President On His Farm Livestock

DENVER, Oct. 18 (AP)—Convincing President Eisenhower, looking forward to traveling to his Pennsylvania farm next month, got a welcome report today on how the cattle and hogs are doing there. He also sunbathed in a wheel chair for the first time.

The farm report, which Mrs. Eisenhower obtained by telephone and then relayed personally to the President, also told of flowering quince and Norway spruce trees now being planted along the lane leading from the highway to the family's country home on the edge of Gettysburg, Pa.

Gift From Cabinet, GOP
The trees were a gift to the chief executive from his Cabinet and Republican party organizations all over the country on his 65th birthday last Friday.

The news from Gettysburg and the President's first venture into a wheel chair since his Sept. 24 heart attack came as he took a 24-hour recess from Cabinet level conferences at Fitzsimons Army Hospital.

He will resume them tomorrow when another bedside discussion of foreign affairs is scheduled with Secretary of State Dulles.

Dulles To Geneva Saturday
The secretary, who leaves Saturday for the Big Four foreign ministers conference opening in Geneva Oct. 27, was due here by plane from Washington tonight.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower did tend to more government business. He assured New England governors the administration is determined "to assist the states and people of the Northeast in developing adequate protections against future flood and hurricane losses."

"No School Today"
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 18 (AP)—School principal Ross Vardon, in a will filed for probate today, ordered that the headstone on his grave be marked.

"No school session today. Teacher gone home."

Vardon, longtime principal of Greenwood School in Wakefield, died Sept. 29 at the age of 85. His will was drawn in 1950.

There was no estimate of the estate.

Deputies Back Algeria Peace Plan, 308-254

French Premier's
Margin Of Victory
Proves Surprise

PARIS, Oct. 18 (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure's government won a vote of confidence tonight 308-254 on its program for restoring peace and beginning political reforms in Algeria.

The National Assembly's vote, coming little more than a week before the four power foreign ministers convene at Geneva, saved the life of the French government at a critical moment in international affairs.

Up to the final moment the issue was uncertain. Just before the deputies started to vote, Faure appealed for support, candidly admitting the possibility his Cabinet might go under after eight months in office.

Victory Margin Surprises
The Premier said he was not asking the deputies to keep him in office just because of the Geneva meeting starting Oct. 27, or because France walked out of the United Nations General Assembly on the Algerian issue.

But he added: "In asking your confidence, I ask you to approve the position taken in the United Nations by Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay."

Faure observed that any French government after about a half year in office "seems to fall victim to a pernicious ailment which soon is fatal."

The margin he won—54 votes—was a surprise even for his most optimistic supporters.

Several deputies went to the rostrum and explained their votes. Criticizing the government's program for Algeria—they said they would support the government because this would be a bad time for a ministerial crisis.

Bidault Concerned
Former Premier Georges Bidault announced in the corridors beforehand that his ballot would take into account "international preoccupations on a short term basis."

He said he continued to have "grave preoccupations on developments in Morocco and the intentions (of the government) on a long-term basis in the whole of North Africa."

Socialists, Communists and a number of Social Republicans (followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle) along with part of the Independent Republicans and a scattering of others had announced they would oppose the Premier.

The Assembly was using for the first time a system of individual balloting in a vote of confidence. In order to cast a vote, each deputy must be present to drop his slip into a big green urn. In normal votes, party leaders are allowed to cast the ballots for all members of their groups.

Westinghouse, Union Confer

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18 (AP)—Union and company officials—with government urging—made a new attempt today to settle a 2-day strike of 44,000 workers at 30 Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants.

Neither side appeared optimistic. Even as the talks got under way, pickets of CIO International Union of Electrical Workers were turning away supervisory personnel and nonstriking office employees at the firm's big East Pittsburgh plant. A company spokesman said "it is illegal."

The union would neither admit nor deny that the picketing policy would be followed at all of the struck plants. A union spokesman said: "It's all up to the individual locals."

The CIO-IUE ordered its members out on strike at midnight Sunday. Negotiations began Sept. 15. The company and union met after the union said it wanted to reopen the contract to negotiate for a wage increase. The contract expires next year.

The CIO-IUE rejected a company offer to sign a new five year contract, giving workers a minimum 23½ cent hourly wage increase, a cost of living escalator clause and improvements in pensions and insurance. The offer also was made to three other unions but they have not accepted it.

Loses $2 For 10 Cents
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18 (AP)—Finding her name on a published list of "lost" persons due income tax refunds, Pearl A. Schimsa today gave up $2 in wages to visit the Internal Revenue Office, where she collected a refund of 10 cents.

Dixie's Governors Wary Of Democrat Coalition Proposal

Race Issue Crops Up At Conference

POINT CLEAR, Ala., Oct. 18 (AP)—Southern governors reflected a growing wariness today toward a suggested coalition aimed at giving Dixie a strong new voice at the 1956 Democratic National Convention.

Meanwhile, the racial issue arose at the opening of the annual Southern Governors Conference but failed to dim the fervor of political speculation.

The conference heard a Negro educator complain of discrimination in college training, then voted without debate and without dissent to explore the possibility of broadening its exchange plan of making out-of-state training available.

As the presidential election gained momentum among the state officials, Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida and Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky joined the growing ranks of Dixie Democrats who backed off cautiously from the coalition proposal.

"I don't think there is much need for the delegates from various Southern states to meet in a secret conclave and propose a course of action for all the states," Collins observed.

"I think the South's position should develop normally and naturally, reflecting the will of the people."

The New York Times and the Baltimore Sun reported that Sen. Johnson (D-Tex.), the Senate majority leader, has undertaken to line up delegates on a coalition front to block an automatic nomination of Adlai Stevenson for president and to force the party to adopt a platform acceptable to conservative Southerners.

Tennessee's Gov. Frank Clement, a potential candidate for the Democratic vice presidential nomination, declined to comment on the coalition idea, but he, too, displayed an evident coolness toward it.

Two other governors who would not be quoted by name shrugged off the coalition talk as unlikely, but Govs. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina and Marvin Griffin of Georgia welcomed the suggestion that Southern Democrats might command the balance of power at the convention.

Hodges told reporters a coalition would be a "very desirable thing," even though he is an avowed Stevenson supporter.

Manufacturers Say Automation Vital To Nation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Two electronic manufacturers today pictured automation—the increased use of automatic processes in industry—as essential to meet the nation's growing demands for goods.

Two union spokesmen, while describing greater automation as probably desirable in the long run, cautioned that it may bring many problems to workers displaced from their jobs.

The view that a growing population will demand more goods than the nation can produce without increased reliance on automation processes was voiced by Don G. Mitchell, chairman and president of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., and Robert C. Tait, vice president of the Stromberg-Carlson Co., a division of General Dynamics Corp.

Howard Coughlin, president of the AFL Office Employees Union, said that for office workers "the future seems to hold a real fear of a large number of dislocations because of the installation of machines."

Otto Pragan, research director for the CIO Chemical Workers Union, said employers, unions and the community generally will have to tackle the problems of worker dislocation and retraining.

"The purchasing power of all segments in our economy will have to match our ability to produce, which is being stepped up so much by automatic production methods," he said.

Robbery Motive In Adams Slaying

TOWSON, Md., Oct. 18 (AP)—Police today listed robbery as the motive for the slaying of John I. Adams, key figure in a six-million-dollar gambling raid, and there were reports a break in the case was imminent.

But John E. Raine Jr., Baltimore County state's attorney, denied the case was near solution.

County Police Chief Hamilton R. Atkinson announced his investigators are satisfied that robbery was the motive in the 39-year-old Negro's death.

Adams' trussed and battered body was found last Saturday in a thickets along U.S. 40 on the east outskirts of Baltimore. He had been garroted and his head was bashed in.

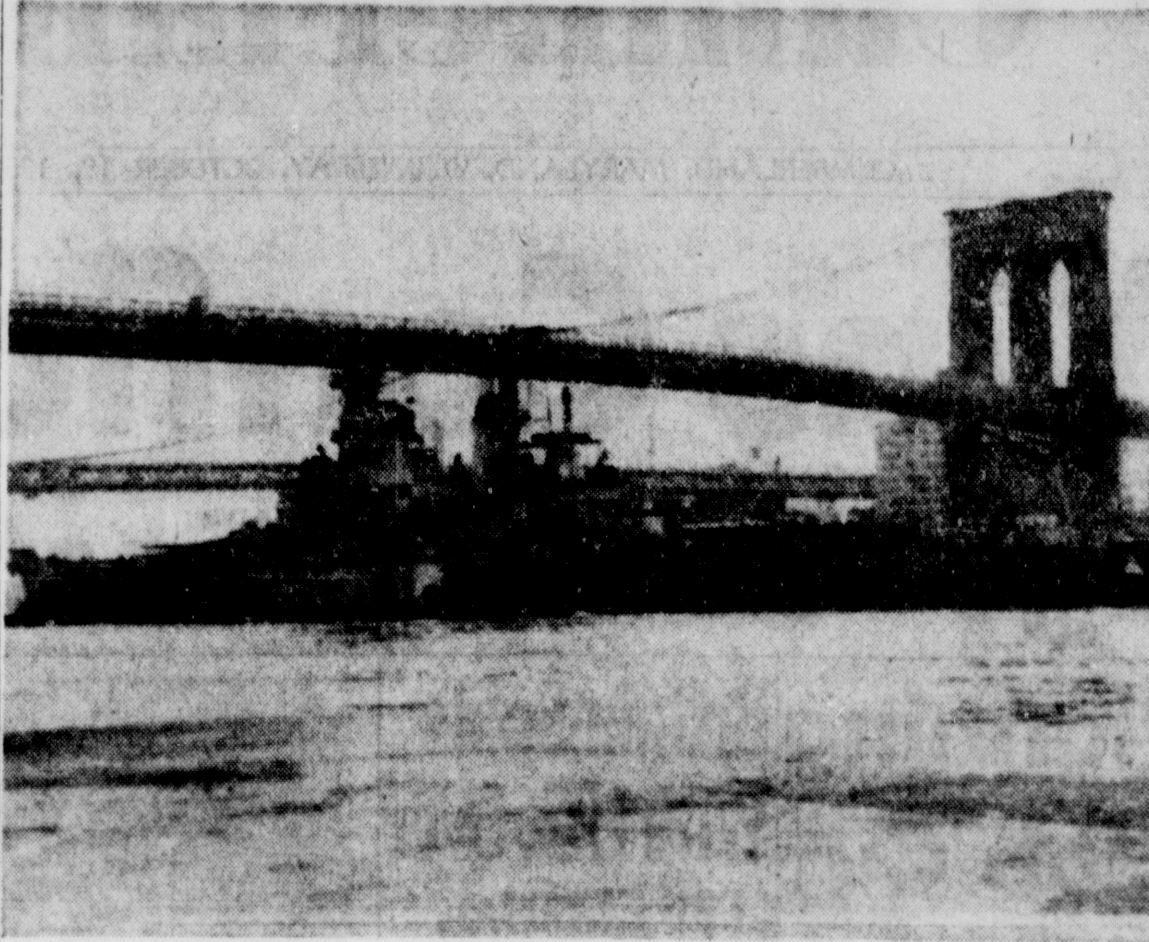

Capt. Gilbert L. Deyle, chief of county detectives, would not disclose the facts which prompted the announcement of the robbery motive. None of the $1,000 Adams reportedly was carrying when he disappeared last Thursday has been recovered, Deyle said.

ICC Will Continue Rail Freight Hikes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) decided today, over the protests of coal and some other shipping interests, to continue indefinitely the temporary rail freight rate boosts authorized in 1952.

The increased rates mean something like a billion dollars a year to the railroads. They had been scheduled to expire next Dec. 31, a contingency which the railroad industry had declared would bring financial distress to many lines.

Although the ICC decision came in a railroad case, domestic water carriers will derive equal benefit. They had been allowed the same rate hikes, ranging from 12 to 15 per cent over previous levels.

Truman Reveals He Feared Wallace Would "Knowingly Or Not" Help Reds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Former President Truman says that when he fired Henry Wallace as secretary of commerce he feared Wallace would "knowingly or not" lend himself to supporting the "sinister ends of the Reds and those who served them."

In the current installment of his memoirs, published in Life Magazine, Truman also tells of (1) scolding Secretary of State James F. Byrnes for "assuming the responsibilities of the President," and (2) getting rid of Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes on the ground Ickes got "too big for his breeches."

The former President also defends his decision to use the atomic bomb against the Japanese. He says:

"The final decision of where and when to use the atomic bomb was up to me. Let there be no mistake about it. I regarded the bomb as a military weapon and never had any doubt that it should be used. The top military advisers recommended its use, and when I talked to (British Prime Minister) Churchill he unhesitatingly told me he favored the use of the atomic bomb if it might aid to win the war."

Truman says the dropping of the bomb "forced Russia to reconsider her position in the Far East" and to make a long-promised entry into the war against Japan.

Truman gives some fresh sidelights on his 1946 dismissal of Wallace after the Cabinet officer—who later ran against him as a third-party candidate with Communist support—made a speech critical of the administration's policy toward Russia. He says he called Wallace to his office and:

"I told him that he would always be free to speak his mind to me but that when he turned to the American public to criticize the American foreign policy he was hitting at the President."

"Wallace proceeded to develop his ideas then at great length. He talked about the beauty of peace and how he knew that the people of all nations had no desire but to have peace."

"I have never doubted Henry Wallace's sincerity or honesty of purpose, but after this conversation I was afraid that, knowingly or not, he would lend himself to the more sinister ends of the Reds and those who served them."

"It must have been difficult for him in later years to acknowledge the aggressive character of the Communists, but he had the good grace to express his full support of my policy when, in 1950, I decided to support South Korea against the Red attack."

As for Byrnes, Truman says the South Carolinian "came to think that his judgment was better than the President's" after Roosevelt gave him virtually unlimited mobilization powers during World War II.

Truman says Ickes, after a row over the President's nomination of Edward Pauley to be undersecretary of the Navy, offered his resignation in "the kind of a letter sent by a man who is sure that he can have his way if he threatens to quit."

Boy, 13, Kills His Father To End Night Of Terror

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 18 (AP)—A night of terror for a mother and her seven children was ended early today, police said, when a 13-year-old boy shot and killed his father.

Clarence A. Sims, 50, died when he was hit behind the left ear by a "punkin' ball" from a shotgun. Cpl. Evan Moody of the West Virginia State Police said 13-year-old Kenneth Theodore Sims fired the gun from about seven feet away.

The boy was released in custody of his mother while legal authorities decided what to do.

Moody said members of the family told him Sims came home drunk, slept for a couple of hours, and then started beating his wife and some of the children, who range from 11 months to 14 years old.

Kenneth, who had been chased out of the house, climbed through a second story window and got the shotgun, which had been hidden.

Moody said the other children told him Kenneth heard his mother screaming, went downstairs, and shot his father as he was choking his wife while she was trying to nurse the baby.

Sims had been scheduled for trial this morning on a drunken driving charge and also was free on bond on a charge of brandishing a deadly weapon. Police said he also had several previous arrests.

Bridegroom Fined For Tippy Driving

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 18 (AP)—A new bridegroom from Ohio was fined $100 on a drunken driving charge today after a tour of taverns he said he made while on a mission for medicine for his Mrs.

Ernest F. Higgins, 42-year-old woodworker from RD 1, Bridgeport, Ohio, was arrested, police said, after his car hit a parked auto.

He left Louisa, his bride of one day, at a motel and drove into town to get the medicine and while in town stopped at several taverns, police said he told them.

He never got back with the medicine—spending last night in the Hagerstown jail.

$15,000 In Gems Stolen

BALTIMORE, Oct. 18 (AP)—Eliot Marks, Brooklyn, N. Y., jewelry salesman, told police today about $15,000 worth of gems disappeared from his hotel room while he was out at a movie last night.

Man Who Robbed To Get In Jail May Get His Wish

BALTIMORE, Oct. 18 (AP)—A man who said he sought to solve his problems by staging a holdup so he'd go to jail, may get his wish.

Harold Eugene Gettridge, 37, of Hagerstown, was found guilty today on a charge of robbing a loan company last Sept. 29.

The man, according to testimony, walked into the Public Loan Co. office with his hand thrust into his coat pocket, demanded money but later tossed back money bags containing about $500.

A confession police said he promptly gave Sgt. George Gavin said: "I want to get myself in a jam to get away from social life. My intent was actually not to take any money from anybody. I had ample opportunity to run and leave. My intentions were to be apprehended in this act as I felt it would solve everything."

Prior to the robbery letters were sent to his estranged wife and his grandmother announcing plans to get himself into trouble.

His court appointed counsel, Leonard S. Freedman, entered innocent pleas, contending the man didn't know right from wrong at the time of the offense. He argued criminal intent was necessary for a robbery conviction.

Judge John T. Tucker disagreed. He noted Gettridge's return of the money came as another loan company employe entered the room. Sentence was deferred pending an examination, the judge ordered.

Echo Of Yalta Paper Dispute

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 18 (AP)—The New Bedford Standard-Times says the State Department has disciplined two employees who argued for early publication of the Yalta Conference record.

The newspaper identified them as Brayton Barron, 56, in charge of compiling the official record of the conference, and Donald M. Dozer, 50, a State Department historian.

The Standard-Times said Dozer was dismissed but is appealing his ouster. Barron was said to have been placed on limited duty for retirement at the end of the year.

The official record of the 1945 Yalta Conference became public last March. Said the Standard-Times in a special dispatch from Washington:

"At the office of Robinson McIlvaine, deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs, where report of the disciplinary actions was confirmed, it was learned that the charges against Barron and Dozer involved 'insubordination.'"

"Although conceding that the Yalta Controversy played a part in the charges, a spokesman maintained there were other complaints against the two men which were sufficient to warrant the action taken."

Episcopal Cathedral Consecration Nov. 6

BALTIMORE, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Episcopal Diocese of Maryland has set Nov. 6 for the consecration of its cathedral, the Church of the Incarnation at University parkway and St. Paul street in Baltimore.

It will mark the 35th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone for the initial phase of a cathedral project.

The diocese, which is comprised of most of Maryland west of Chesapeake Bay except for the Southern Maryland counties closer to Washington, voted at its convention last February to make the church the official center of its activities.

The Rev. John N. Peabody will be installed as first dean and rector of the cathedral as part of the consecration services.

Churches throughout the diocese will send representatives for the 4 p.m. ceremonies, to be conducted by the Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, bishop of Maryland.

The cathedral project was launched in 1908 and the pro-cathedral or synod hall was built in the period from 1911 to 1932.

Body Of Woman Found In Wrecked, Runaway Auto

MT. AIRY, Md., Oct. 18 (AP)—Mrs. William Merrick, 65-year-old widow, was dead when removed from the wreckage of her car today. She apparently suffered a heart attack and the car rolled down a steep incline, smashing into another car and a house.

Firemen said that a number of times in the past they had taken the woman to a hospital for treatment of heart attacks. The body was taken to Baltimore for an autopsy.

Chief Edward Grimby of the Mt. Airy Volunteer Fire Dept., said the woman apparently had the car at the edge of the driveway of her home here when she suffered an attack. The car went down a 200-foot incline and was found wedged between the car and home of Andy Cashour.

Hoover Denies Democratic Charges Commission Task Forces "Stacked"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today the second Hoover Commission on Government Reorganization "never divided on political grounds" and did not pack its water resources task force with "special interests."

His views were summed up in an article in the November issue of the Democratic Digest, publication of the Democratic National Committee. The digest criticized the Hoover Commission in its September issue. It invited Hoover to give his side when he "questioned the conclusions" of the digest analysis.

The Democratic magazine had charged the former President had "stacked" commission task forces. It said he excluded public power advocates from a resource task force. It said further that Congress failed to act in the last session on any major recommendation of the commission.

Hoover in his reply said the commission, set up to find ways to increase efficiency and reduce expenses of government, determined at the start that "party politics" should not enter into its conclusions. He said he "never even heard mentioned a reference to political party effect of any conclusion."

He declared no inquiry into party affiliations of task force members was ever made, although he said they did embrace members of both parties, as did the commission itself.

"The water resources task force was not packed with special interests," he wrote. "It comprised 15 engineers, five lawyers, three governors or former governors, and a public accountant. They included members of both parties."

"When a motion was made in the commission to place three persons on the task force 'who believe in the principle of federal public power development,' it was tabled by a vote of 10-1, in which three Democrats concurred, on the ground that such action would necessitate appointment of three persons also to represent the public utility interests."

"Instead the commission voted unanimously to authorize the task force to hold public hearings at which individuals and representatives of groups could present their views."

Hoover said 141 of the commission's recommendations require legislation and more than 200 bills have been introduced in Congress for this purpose. He added the proposals "came too late at the busy end" of the last session for action, although an important one passed the Senate. He said 145 recommendations can be put into effect administratively and more than 50 have already been adopted.

He also reported that 16 per cent of the total recommendations were "bound to provide controversy, especially from pressure groups," and 84 per cent are winning "general acceptance."

Pickets Still March At Baltimore Plants

BALTIMORE, Oct. 18 (AP)—Pickets continued to march without incident today at three of the four Westinghouse plants in the Baltimore area.

Hourly-aid workers belonging to the CIO's International Union of Electrical Workers have been on strike there since Sunday morning, along with those at 26 other plants elsewhere in the country.

Picket lines were described as "very orderly."

Work was not interrupted at the Westinghouse Air Arm Division adjacent to Baltimore's Friendship

International Airport. The hourly-paid employees there are members of the AFL's International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Objects at the equator weigh less than they would at the poles, because of centrifugal force.

The average pencil can draw a line 35 miles long.

SR Day Is Observed

Cumberland Chapter 914 and Frostburg, 221, Women of the Moose, combined for a Star Recorder's Day program, with the latter group hostess at the Frostburg Moose home.

The opening was conducted by the Frostburg group; balloting and initiation by Cumberland; Mooseheart Endowment fund and Star Recorder March; were held by Keyser, 191. The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Mary Ruffo, senior regent of Frostburg, and the response was made by Mrs. Louise Wertman, junior graduate regent, Keyser.

Mrs. Mary Humbertson, Star Recorder of Cumberland, spoke on the star recorder duties and the scholarship fund. Mrs. Anna Quartucci, star recorder of Frostburg, and general chairman for the evening, discussed the qualifications for becoming a star recorder.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Rosalie Evans, Mrs. Ruffo, senior regents Mrs. Humbertson and Mrs. Quartucci, star recorders of the two chapters.

New, Prospective Members To Be Honored October 30

Plans for a tea honoring new and prospective members were formulated and the state board meeting was discussed at the meeting of the Frostburg-Georges Creek Branch, AAUW board, held at the home of Miss Jane Grindel, McCulloh Street, Frostburg, Miss Jean Bowan was co-hostess.

Mrs. Virgil Atkinson, Program chairman, announced the tea for new and prospective members will be held October 30 from 2 until 4 at the home of Mrs. Robert Bittner, Ständish Street. The executive board is to serve as the committee with Mrs. Atkinson chairman.

Reservations for the state board meeting, which is open to any AAUW member, are to be made by today. The meeting is to be held at the headquarters, 1634 Street, N. W., Washington, October 22. Dr. Helen Dalton Bragdon, Washington, general director, will speak on "AAUW's International Program and Activities." Speakers in the afternoon are Mrs. Leon J. Greenbaum Sr., Baltimore, and Mrs. Paul H. Anderson, Takoma Park. Their topic is "What is done on the state level by the International Relations and Fellowships."

A donation of $20 was made by First Methodist Church to purchase religious books for the library. Mrs. Robert Bittner reported, "A Revised Version of the Bible," by Peale, "Christ and the Fine Arts," and "Influence of Prayer," have been bought and a few more will be added. She also announced the Saturday children's story hour will be started October 22 when Mrs. Robert Hager will be the story teller. The following Saturday five students of Dr. Dorothy Howard's class at the college will hold the story hour. This Saturday it is for four, five and six-year-olds.

Reports from the Frederick workshop were given and it was reported that the Recent Graduates group gave $500 to the library and is planning crafts for the next few meetings. The local news letters and yearbook are to be distributed within the week.

The general meeting will be held November 7 and will be a dinner at Anton's Big Savage Inn with the Fellowship Scholarship committee in charge. R. Bowen Hardy, president of State Teachers College, is to be the speaker. Members may invite guests.

The next board meeting will be at 7, November 21 at the home of Mrs. George Graham, Beall Street, with Miss Virginia Neff co-hostess. Concluding the meeting refreshments were served.

Coronation Is Held At Grace Church

The Women's Missionary Society of Grace Baptist Church held a Girls Auxiliary coronation service, using, "Advancing in Love," as the program topic.

Barbara Miller of First Baptist Church, gave the bugle call announcing the entrance of the Court of Honor, composed of the Missionary Society executive committee, wearing pastel colored gowns. Others in the procession were Mrs. Fern Wilson, Young People's director; Mrs. Harry Reynolds, junior counselor; Patricia Trozzo, Joyce Royce, Paulette Ridenour, Frances Shober, Sandra Simpson, Betty Martin, maidens; Margaret Brown and Anita Barnes, ladies in waiting, all carrying lighted candles. Sandra Muns, princess, carried a small globe of the world. Each girl answered requirements in Forward Steps.

Irene Brown, queen, carried a white Bible. Gary Wilson, a page, carried her crown and Barbara Brown, a Sunbeam, was flower girl for her sister. Following the coronation by Mrs. Reynolds, the "Queen" was presented the Girls Auxiliary pin. Each girl received a corsage from the society.

A devotional was led by Mrs. Clyde Runion, WMS president, on the theme, "Queenly Quest," and Rev. W. Randolph Keefe offered the dedication prayer. Mrs. Samuel L. Blume played the music for the program. The decorations were in the GA colors of white and green with a touch of gold.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welsh entertained with a party in celebration of the second birthday of their daughter, Karen Margaret, at their home, Fayette Street. Balloons and favors were used in the decorations. A clown cake and a three-tiered birthday cake with two candles formed the centerpiece. Multicolored bonnets were given to the girls and cowboy and jockey hats to the boys.

Eighteen adults also attended. Town Creek Homemakers will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Bessie Hinkle.

Nature Created Grottos, Man Provided Legends

AMALFI, Italy, Oct. 18 (AP)—Nature created a couple of lovely grottos near here that would do a thriving business anywhere that there are lovelorn maidens or childless wives.

Man filled in the legends to round out what nature started in the caves where changing light alters the color of the sea from sky blue to emerald green.

One grotto is reputed hereabouts to contain a "sure cure" for childlessness. It's the Baia Verde—Green Bay. Local tradition gives this formula for wives who want children:

You row out there yourself in a small boat, wash your legs and face three times in the water of the right hand corner of the grotto, then drink some of the water.

The second is called the grotto of the pirate. Girls who have not yet encountered the man of their dreams are advised hereabouts to go there by moonlight and throw three pebbles at a rock that juts up from the water. Doesn't matter if they hit or miss. But it helps, some folk say, to recite the name of a likely young man or two during the pebble tossing.

Old timers in this picturesque fishing town on the Sorrento peninsula say "You seldom have to go back a second time to either grotto."

Could it be true? Well, in this part of Italy, most families do have plenty of children—and there are few old maids.

D. C. Residents Must Flee If Raid Looms

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The people of Washington will have no choice when an enemy air attack looms—they will be ordered to flee the city at once, it was disclosed today.

That point was made known by Cmdr. Edward L. Beach, naval aide to President Eisenhower, in a conference on civil defense matters with District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginia officials.

Beach made known a hitherto secret National Security Council directive approved by the President which makes it mandatory that mass evacuation take place in Washington when the "probable warning" is flashed.

Washington is the only target city in the United States where local officials have no discretion in ordering mass evacuation when attack impends, Beach said.

Virginian Moves Up

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—J. Homer Remsburg, president of the Maryland & Virginia Milk Producers' Assn., announced today that William B. Hooper of Falls Church, Va., will become general manager and secretary-treasurer of the organization Jan. 1.

Hooper, now assistant secretary-treasurer, will succeed Bruce B. Derrick, who will remain with the association "in a consultative capacity" for two years.

Detention Act Extended

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Cyprus detention law, under which persons can be jailed indefinitely in this restive British colony without trial, is to be effective at least six months longer than was originally expected. Due to expire Oct. 31, it was extended last week until April 30. At present 100 men are held under its provisions.

LET'S FACE IT — Representing famous characters of Alice in Wonderland, new Halloween faces for youngsters are included in this year's Hallmark party kit. Posing with a couple of them is New York model Alice Intermann. The kit was inspired by a forthcoming television presentation of the Lewis Carroll classic.

Sen. Della Is Left As Only Witness At Council Hearing

BALTIMORE, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Legislative Council will hold a hearing tomorrow for one witness—its own former Senate president, George Della of Baltimore's Sixth District.

Della was left today as the only possible witness at a hearing requested on a suit against the State Roads Commission. The suit filed in Annapolis by Mrs. Bertha Jewell named Senator Della and his partner in Anne Arundel County real estate operations, J. Donaldson Parr.

Parr declined today an invitation from the Legislative Council to appear at a hearing. Mrs. Jewell previously had done so.

"I'll be there, definitely," said Della. Mrs. Jewell's suit accuses the State Roads Commission of giving preferential treatment to the Democratic senator and Parr on access roads leading to property the two own on the Annapolis by-pass.

Isoniazid Will Be Tested Against TB

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—A mass test of the tuberculosis-preventing effectiveness of the drug isoniazid will begin within a year, a U. S. Public Health Service scientist said today.

Dr. Carroll E. Almer told a news conference that if the drug proves as effective against TB for humans as it has in animal experiments, entire populations can be protected against the disease for as little as a penny a day.

Palmer said the test will be conducted in a way similar to the Salk polio vaccine tests.

Half of those in the test group will get isoniazid pills, the other half will get sugar tablets, resulting in a "control" by which the effectiveness of the drug may be judged.

Hitler Valet Gets Offer

BERLIN, Oct. 18 (AP)—Heinz Linke, Hitler's valet for 10 years, may sell his memoirs to a London firm for about $100,000. Linke's uncle Heinrich Bauer said, Linke, returned Oct. 8 from Soviet captivity, said he took part in the burning of Hitler's body after the Fuehrer committed suicide in a Berlin bunker.

Sen. Eastland Believes Spy Nets Operating

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.), chairman of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, said this week he believes there are additional Communist spy rings to be exposed in this country, and "we are working on one now."

Eastland made the statement in a transcribed radio interview (MBS' Reporters' Roundup). The exchange follows:

Question: "There has been exposed in the United States one 'net,' as they call it, of Communist operations. That had to do with the group that Whitaker Chambers showed up, mostly. Do you believe that there are other undisclosed 'nets,' or spy rings?"

Eastland: "Yes, I believe that. We are working on one now. What becomes of it I wouldn't—couldn't—tell at this time."

The senator then shifted the discussion to what he described as a massive importation of Communist propaganda which is not identified as such.

"It's coming in here by the shiploads from the Soviet Union, from Red China, from other countries without any label of any kind," Eastland said, adding:

"There are 40-odd ports of entry that have been sampled and it is coming in all of them."

He said New York and San Francisco are "the two big" ports of entry, and Boston is also a big one.

He said the Customs Service estimated that a million pieces of Communist propaganda come into New Orleans each month, much of it for transshipment to Latin America.

Asked "What do you propose to do about it," Eastland replied: "We're going to see that it is labeled. Whether we could prohibit its coming into this country or not, the lawyers are working on it at this time."

The Clement, first successful commercial steamboat, traveled at about five miles an hour.

Green Thumb Emissary Makes German Hit With His American Squash Seeds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—Jim Macfarland planted squash seeds last spring in Frankfurt, Germany, and before you could say, "der eichelkurbis," he was on his way to international fame.

He has been praised, extravagantly, by the Germans, and condemned, extravagantly, by the Communists. All on account of his vegetable garden.

When Macfarland, who is in the U. S. Information Agency, was sent to Germany, he planned to do as he always had, whether he was in Canada or Turkey. Yes, sir, he would have a little garden.

Well, it took time, but few gardens ever thrived so spectacularly, Macfarland said today. He's home on leave, and with him is a scrapbook filled with newspaper clippings, all by-products of his gardening.

Macfarland isn't sure now why he decided on gardening as a habit — he never touched a hoe back home in Mountain Lakes, N. J. — but 10 years ago when he went into foreign service he took along a few packets of seeds. No matter where he was, the crops thrived nicely.

Three years ago he was sent to Frankfurt, and found a different situation. The Germans set aside small acreages in the heart of town for gardening. Each acreage is run by a club, and members have small plots in which to plant their seeds.

"In 1953, I applied for membership in the club nearest me," Macfarland said. "Nothing happened. In 1954, same story. This year I got it. A nice little plot, I'd say was in Canada or Turkey. Yes, 35 by 100 feet. Fine soil.

"They say I'm the first American ever to join a garden club in Frankfurt. And when the word got around that I planned to plant peas, sweet corn and squash it created a little excitement. Especially the sweet corn and squash. The sweet corn because the Germans think corn is nothing but chicken feed, and squash because they had never heard of it. They had to make up a word, eichelkurbis. It means a corn pumpkin."

Well, gardeners are the same all over the world. So many Germans wanted to try their hand at squash raising they Macfarland had to send an S.O.S. to a Philadelphia seed company. It not only gave the seed, free, but sent it airmail so it would be there in plenty of time.

The German newspaper became interested. There are pictures of Macfarland passing out the squash seed while sitting in front of a sign reading:

"AMERIKANISHER SQUASH SAMEN GRATIS!"

Other pictures show him leaning on a rake discussing crops with Karl Moerchel, president of his garden club and a Frankfurt police official. News stories had headlines: "Better Understanding Over the Watering Can" and "Good Neighbor Over the Garden Fence."

Only the Communist paper looked sourly at the gardening. "They said this proved Americans plan to stay in Germany for 50 years," Macfarland said.

Well, the crops did splendidly. Some of the Germans raised bigger squashes than Macfarland's, and the prospects for next year are so good the president of the Philadelphia seed company asked him to drop by and fill him in on the German garden club situation.

"Had an excellent lunch," Macfarland said.

Did they eat squash?

"By golly, we didn't," he said. "I feel like a traitor."

Heroic Skipper Fulfills Dream

NEWTON, N. J., Oct. 18 (AP)—A 41-year-old veteran sea captain has fulfilled an old dream born during his numerous expeditions across the globe.

The Moore-McCormack Line announced today that Capt. Leonard P. LaRue, who made maritime history during the Korean War by evacuating to safety 14,000 South Koreans from the beleaguered port of Hungnam, has joined the Roman Catholic order of Benedictine Missionaries at St. Paul's Abbey here.

LaRue, now Brother Marinus, joined the abbey while on a six-month leave of absence. The line said he had been thinking of becoming a monk for some time.

A native of Philadelphia and a graduate of the Pennsylvania State Schoolship, LaRue was skipper of the Moore-McCormack cargo ship Meredith Victory.

On Dec. 22, 1950, the vessel steamed into Hungnam where some 14,000 refugees pleaded to be evacuated before the onslaught of the advancing Red Chinese troops. The Chinese reportedly vowed to behead every native found in town.

LaRue decided to take them all aboard his 7,637-ton cargo ship, manned by a crew of 35. The vessel, one of the last to leave the nearly-deserted harbor, made its way safely to Pusan in a perilous, three-day journey.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (INS)—Are birds cowards? I'm beginning to think so. While taxiing out to the starting line on a couple of recent flights I peered through the clouded, rain-streaked windows of the plane and saw a number of pigeons, terns, gulls, geese and crows walking. A mynah asked, "Is this trip necessary?" A vulture shushed him, then glanced evilly from side to side.

A whooping crane clucked "fly on a day like this? Are you nuts? There are only a few of us left. Remember what happened to the dodo and the passenger pigeon. They were fools enough to fly in weather like this." The vulture et him.

All of which is an involved way of saying that I'm constantly amazed by the ability of the airlines to zip here and there safely in weather that is not fit for man nor beast.

There's nothing like the snug efficiency of a train in foul weather. But on the recent occasions I speak of there was a matter of time involved—work to do in New York beforehand. The need to be in another city later in the day.

In the first case it was a trip from New York to Omaha. I wish I could remember the name of Pat Patterson's airline but I couldn't see the trademark on the wing. Visibility wasn't that good. We could barely see the ground while waiting to take off from LaGuardia and never saw it again until just before we touched down gently at Chicago.

While waiting to take off on the final leg of the trip, the vile weather at the airport turned bad. Real bad. The water did not come down in drops. It came down as it does at Niagara. One feared for the roof of the fuselage.

Outside the plane it was as black as night, though this was mid-afternoon. So what? So the props started spinning, we sloped and skidded to the starting line and the imperturbable hostess said that our flying time to Omaha would be one hour and umpteen and three fourths seconds. The chief concern in the breast of the occupant in seat 13-Z was "okay, doll, but how you going to get this crate off the water?"

Airplane engines certainly are strong devils. Ours overcame the water on the runway, the surge of the storm, the weight of that great iron bird, the reservoirs of gas and oil, the fat patrons and their stout baggage, and a ton of magazines and instruments and gear—and off we went into the wild gray yonder.

If possible it was an even fouler day Friday on a trip to Lowell, Mass., for a nice bloke named Dave Connors of the Lowell Sun.

Once again it is impossible to identify the airline. Seeing eye dogs led me to the plane, though it was parked within 30 feet of the desk where the man looks at your ticket and grudgingly admits that you have the right one. The wind howled like a banshee. The rain wasn't falling. It was going by sideways at just beyond the speed of sound. Birds marched by four abreast.

I climbed the steps of the plane with the pride of a man going to the gallows for a cause. Plainly, I would be the only passenger. No one else would dare fly on a day like this. I wondered if even the pilot appeared.

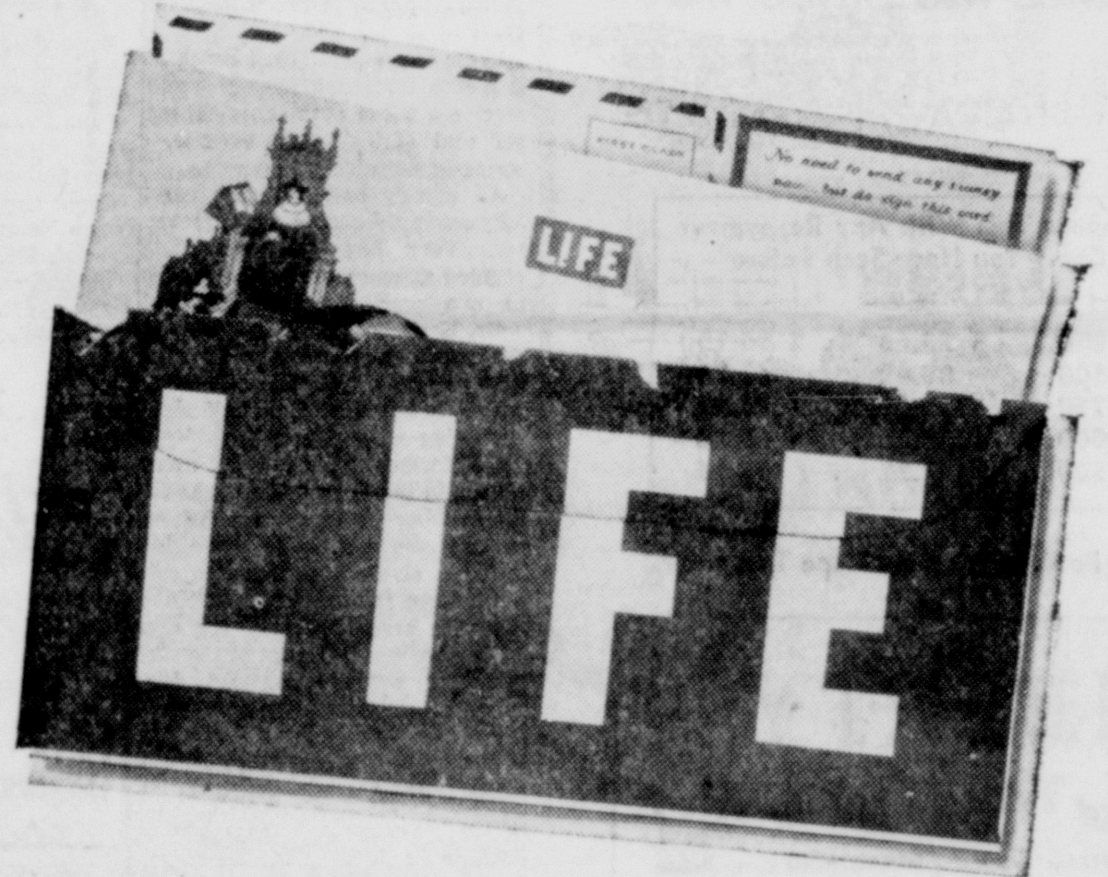

I was lucky to get a seat. The plane was filled with people reading the New York Journal American, children playing in the aisles, a couple of commuters playing gin. At the appointed time, the young man in the driver's seat touched the buttons and the pinwheels started. Off we hammered.

We flew through weather which, had it happened in the 1770's would have caused a cancellation of the Boston Tea Party with the result

Trial Of Local Motorist Continued Until Nov. 8

The trial of a local driver who was involved in an accident on Martin's Mountain on Monday, October 10, was continued in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday until November 8 to allow the defense to present other witnesses.

Henry Virgil Sirbaugh, 1014 Ella Avenue, who has been arrested 10 times on motor vehicle law violations since 1940, was apprehended by State Police and charged with operating on a revoked driver's license, his second offense.

Police state that Sirbaugh's car hit another car, went up over a 25-foot bank, tearing down a fence on top of the bank, and rolling back to Route 40.

At the request of Earl E. Manges, attorney for Sirbaugh, the hearing was continued to November 8.

Police presented a record on Sirbaugh's motor vehicle activity from the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

On November 2, 1940 a charge of unauthorized use of an auto placed against him was dismissed.

July 31, 1941 he was fined $10 for operating a car without a license; September 22, 1941, application for a license refused by the Department of Motor Vehicles; April 29, 1944, operating with expired tags and failing to make immediate application for title; April 4, 1946, $50 fine and license revoked for failing to assign title at the time of the sale of a car; Oct-

Latin Club Formed

LONACONING—The Latin Club has been organized at Valley High School. Kenneth Metz was elected president; Kenneth Grandstaff, vice president; Doris Jodie, secretary; and Lionel Baker, treasurer.

The club, directed by Mrs. Margaret B. Sloan, plans to have social events and purchase books for the club.

Added Appeal Is Made In Chest Drive

An analysis of the Community Chest drive was made Monday by campaign leaders and it was decided that further appeals must be made for more support of the nine Red Feather agencies.

Dr. Charles L. Kopp, general campaign chairman, met with the division leaders and the executive board of the Community Chest in the drive headquarters, County Building, Union Street.

With the closing date set on Thursday at 6:30 p.m., it appears that about 90 per cent of the goal of $126,000 should be reached.

Members of the executive committee felt that further appeals should be made to reach the total goal.

If the entire goal is not reached, it means that each agency would receive a cut of approximately ten per cent of their 1956 budgets, seriously curtailing activities.

All agency budgets were carefully surveyed before the goal was set. Very few increases were granted although all agencies have many requests for their services.

Dr. Kopp has asked members of the campaign organization to make every effort to complete all assignments before the Thursday night campaign windup meeting.

He further appealed to every person in the Cumberland area for support as he does not believe anyone would like to have the services of the nine agencies cut.

Dr. Kopp stated that many of the agencies serve not only the City of Cumberland but most of the surrounding section including Allegany County and even into West Virginia.

Support of the nine agencies will further their work which is so necessary for the entire Cumberland area, Dr. Kopp stated.

The chest office at 111 Union Street will be open for contributions from 9 to 5 p.m. each day except Saturday until October 28. Those wishing to contribute may call PA 2-3900 and a volunteer solicitor will be sent.

Local Beer License Permit Is Refused

The application of George E. Owings for a Class D (on sale) beer license for premises at 332 Virginia Avenue has been rejected by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners.

The opinion filed with the notice of rejection was signed by Walter C. Capper, chairman, and Stanley O. Hamilton and Howard W. Vandegrift, board members.

The license was sought for the same premises formerly known as the South End Republican Club where a waitress was fatally injured when struck by a chair during a melee last July. The trustees voluntarily surrendered the license shortly after.

The board stated that if a hearing had been held and the license revoked no other license could be issued for these premises for one year. The board also stated that it had received complaints of loud and boisterous operation of the premises previously. The board held

Owings responsible for the way the club had been operated and on this basis refused him the beer license.

Driver Is Fined On Motor Counts

A driver with lengthy records for motor vehicle law violations was fined $251.50 in Trial Magistrate's Court yesterday.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick fined Ralph Edward Hutzell of Kelly Boulevard Apartments $200.75 for operating under the influence of alcoholic beverages, and $50.75 for reckless driving.

Hutzell was also given a six-month term in the House of Correction, but this was suspended and he was placed on probation for two years. One of the conditions imposed on him is that he refrain from the use of alcoholic beverages.

He was arrested Monday at 11 a. m. on Cash Valley Road by Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander of the LaVale Barracks of State Police.

Hutzell was taken to the County Jail when he was unable to pay his fine. He will be released, Dick said, upon payment of the $251.50.

The local man's record presented by Lt. O'Hara showed a $10 fine on April 19, 1948, for exceeding 50 miles per hour; $5 fine on January 1, 1949, for passing near a curve; $50 on March 12, 1951, for failing to stop after an accident; $50 fine on the same day for failing to identify himself after an accident; $5 fine on December 18, 1951, for passing on a curve; $100 fine on October 28, 1952, for operating a car with a revoked driver's license.

His license was revoked twice during that time, on April 30, 1951, and on June 1, 1953. His driver's permit was reinstated on February 28 of this year, the record from the Department of Motor Vehicles stated.

City Is Awaiting Arrival Of Pipe For PPG Line

The first carload of pipe for the 18-inch water line to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company is expected here within the next few days.

City officials are making plans for unloading and storing the steel pipe shipped here by the Armco Drainage Company which was low bidder.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said pipe will arrive in the B&O rolling mill yards where it will be unloaded and stored.

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards added the city has responsibility for unloading the pipe and storing it until the contractor is ready to move it. Edwards said the pipe will arrive in three or four carload lots. In all, there will be 26 carloads. Each section of pipe is 50 foot long.

The size and weight of pipe presents a problem. It is also numbered, section by section, and must be stored accordingly.

The city, therefore, is asking prices on rental of a large boom with which to lift pipe off the rail cars. This cost was included in estimates of the pipe line.

The Mayor and Council has designated Edwards and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum to arrange for unloading pipe.

Edwards said yesterday the first carloads of pipe could be expected here either the end of this week or the first of next. Nuzum told Mayor Eves the contractor would like to get started on the line as near October 25 as possible.

Cumberland Contracting Company, this city, was awarded the contract for laying the pipe line. Its bid of $165,715 was the low of seven submitted several weeks ago.

The pipe will cost $167,715. These two figures, plus engineering contingencies, right of way, pipe storage, etc., will put the cost of the PPG water line in the neighborhood of $409,219.

Sunday Liquor Sale Is Probed

Alleged sale of liquor on Sunday by a South End establishment is being investigated by authorities. The probe started after Herbert Higson, 44, Williams Road, was arrested Sunday on a drunk charge. Higson was arrested by Officers Ernest M. Powell and Louis Downey. He was released on payment of a $5 fine.

Moose Meeting Slated Sunday

The Maryland State Moose Association will hold a bi-monthly meeting here Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Cumberland Lodge 371.

The association comprises 40 lodges in Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia, and Sun-Sam Canatella, Baltimore, secretary; Walter Komorowski, Garden-approximately 50 officials and lodge representatives.

The newest lodge of the association, that at Wheaton in Montgomery County, was instituted October 2.

Talks and reports will be made by J. John Stoehr, Pittsburgh, regional director; Wilfred L. Spencer, Baltimore, Lodge 70, association president; Fred Tanner, Dundalk Lodge 1228, first vice president; William Nichols, Hagerstown Lodge 212, second vice president; Sam Canatella, Baltimore, secretary; Walter Komorowski, Garden-ville Lodge, civic affairs chairman, and Thomas Matthews, Catonsville Lodge 373, ritualistic chairman.

The civic affairs report will include discussion of plans for association and individual lodge participation in the March of Dimes, Cancer Fund drive and other charitable projects.

Gulf No-Nox burns clean. Here's proof: Note the black deposit on plate at left, caused by the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the part which Gulf refines out in making New Super-Refined NO-NOX. But see how clean new NO-NOX leaves the plate at right. Now—in your own car, see how new NO-NOX can give you the best in motor performance and protection . . . plus more miles per gallon in the kind of short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.

Gulfpride Select works clean. Here's why: Most conventional oils are refined only to the stage shown in Graduate A. But New Gulfpride Select is further refined by the Alchlor Process—a special treatment that removes up to 15% more of the carbon-formers, as shown in Graduate B. Graduate C contains the new super-refined oil that can give you more miles per quart because it has natural viscosity (body)—contains no artificial thickeners that break down in service.

Together they give you thousands of extra miles of new-car performance . . . new-engine economy

Gulf now brings you not just a gasoline . . . not just an oil . . . but a great new gasoline and a great new motor oil which, working together, boost each other's efficiency.

This New Gulf Super-Refined Gas-Oil Team will help your car retain all the new-car horsepower you

Few Small Vs. Big Line-Ups In U. N.

The French complained that some of the votes against them came from "tiny" states when the U. N. General Assembly on September 30 voted, 28 to 27, against keeping the unrest in Algeria off its agenda. The French intimated that it was ridiculous for such states to sanction what the French called interference in a purely domestic problem.

It is true that some small states helped to make up the majority of one against France—Afghanistan, Costa Rica, Lebanon, Liberia, Yemen. But it is true also that some small states voted with France—Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Honduras, Luxemburg. And big states were on both sides—Russia and India against France, the U. S. and Great Britain with her.

When the U. N. charter was drawn up in San Francisco in 1945, the big powers faced a revolt, partially successful, from the smaller ones against the special position given the Big Five through the veto power in the Security Council. It was widely predicted then that this Big vs. Small alignment would bedevil the organization throughout its existence.

The prediction has not been borne out, for alignments in U. N. votes seldom go according to size or, for that matter, to geography. The anti-colonial bloc includes not only the small Arab states but also India, with an even larger population than Russia. And on votes in the Social, Humanitarian and Cultural Committee on October 13, five Latin American states broke away from the remaining 15, Greece split off from the NATO bloc, Thailand and Liberia voted against the other participants in the Bandung conference of last spring.

It can't be ignored that France and Costa Rica, for instance, each have one vote in the U. N. General Assembly, though France has 50 times the population of Costa Rica. But if you come down to that, New York and Nevada each have two votes in the U. S. Senate, though the first has 70 times the population of the second.

Controversies

I was sitting with some newspapermen recently and the point was made that there are not enough controversies in the newspapers. Another added the opinion that the reason why there are not so many controversies is that people are happy that after years of quarrelling over the New Deal and war and Communists, folks are glad to have some peaceful relief.

It all depends upon the generation. Older folks can grow very disputatious about the vile manners of the younger generations and surely their manners are not Chesterfieldian. A Beau Brummel of the present era seems to be a fellow in knee pants with a black coat and a pink shirt. To the sober, he resembles the sort of pink thing one might see from drinking too much Irish whiskey or undiluted vodka. Young men resist neckties or wear them open at the throat, and as for the girls—Heavens to Betsy!

But if one is among the quite young, he can get himself into an argument on the virtues of Dixieland Jazz, or the superiority of Bach over the Romantics, or the need for a 1950-1960 F. Scott Fitzgerald, a novelist who will understand this age, or the need for a religious emotional expression.

Politics! Well, really the younger people wonder what the older people get so excited about. "Define for me," shouts youth, "the precise difference between a Republican and a Democrat." "I want no loose oratory," says youth. "Tell me with precision of thought and language what the difference is between an Eisenhower Republican or a Taft Republican or between Stevenson and Harriman. If you can't be precise, I'll vote for Margaret Truman or Princess Margaret or any Margaret. What difference does it really make?"

The last great issue that excited youth was Joe McCarthy. They were violently for or against McCarthy and their violence was full of excitement and disputation. But they are not arguing that way about anything now, not even about Peron's baby harem or whether Ingrid Bergman should be admitted into the United States to do a picture and restore her fortune. None of this excites the young. In my day, when I was very young, we could get up an argument about woman suffrage but we all, old and young, know now that women have not purified politics. In fact, let's face it: politics seems to make women more like what the women used to believe men were like in the old days.

No one talks about what has happened to the emancipated woman. I recently raised that question with teen-age girls, but they never heard about the emancipation of women. They expected to find a guy who would support them as best he might, but they did not expect too much and figured that they would have to work for a living for a longer time than their mothers did, but it was on account of taxation.

One can start plenty of controversies because they exist but they are more personal than general. What about delayed marriages on account of conscription? There is something that gets young people so sore that they do not delay the marriage at all. They get married as soon as they can, even while at school, and hope for the best. Is it good?

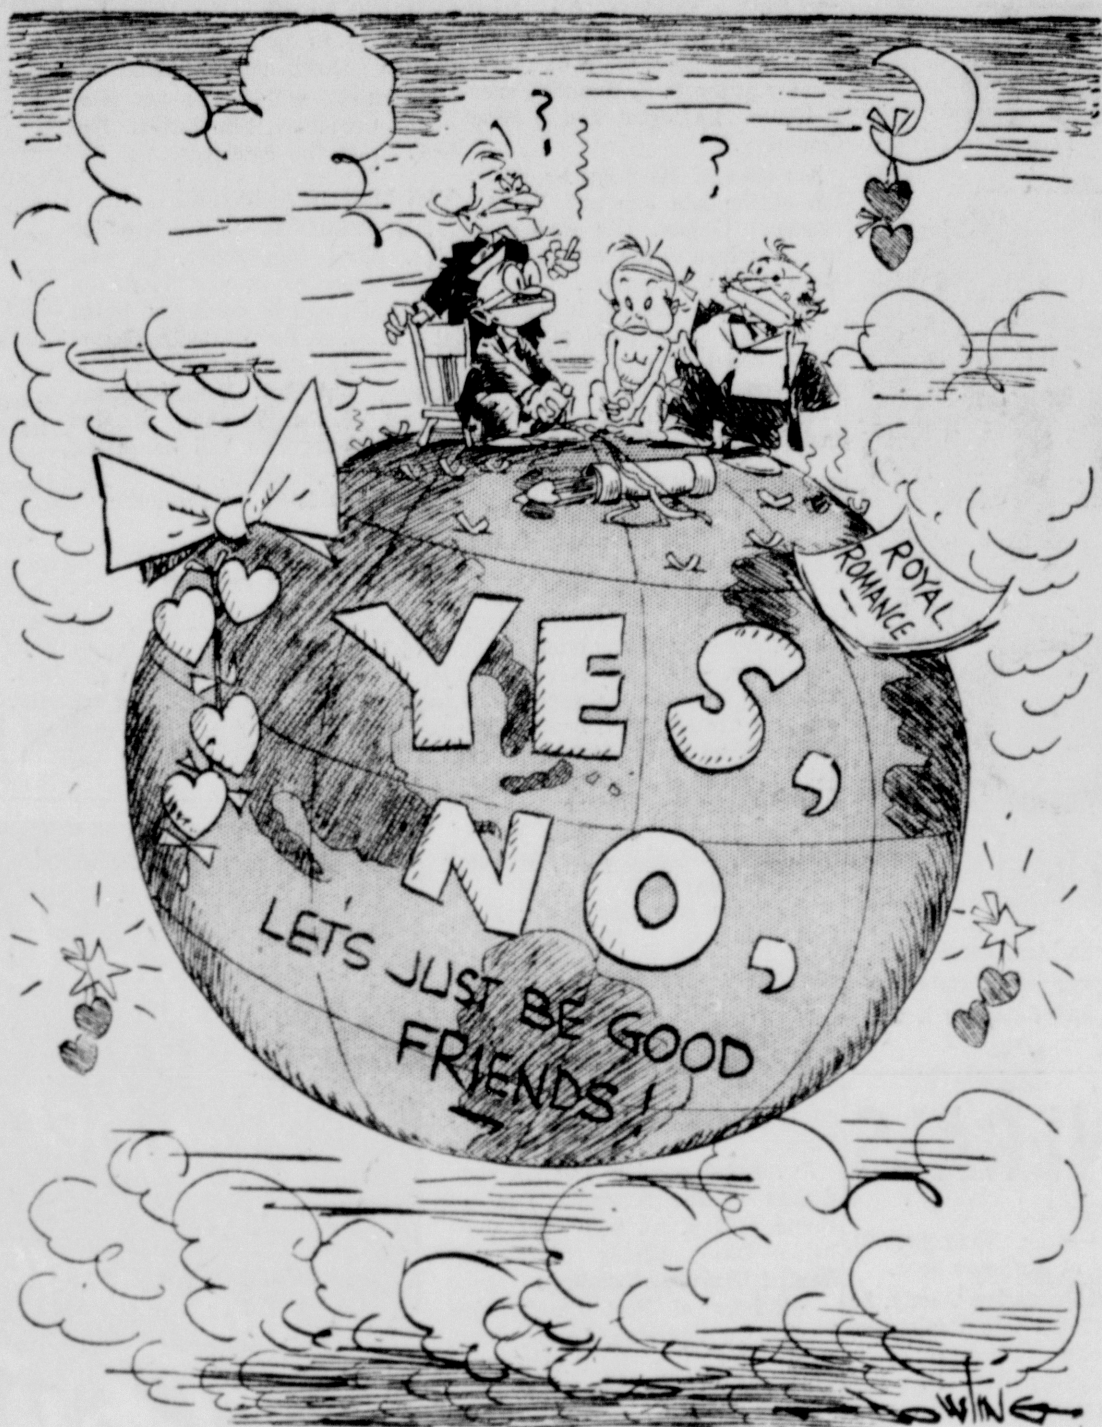

There is a controversy that might have run in the newspapers for months in the old days, with all the great of the Earth speaking pro and con and advising all and sundry. And there would be photographs of student families on every campus and the professors sounding off on whether these married students work better than boys and girls who go necking of a Friday night.

What is important? How does anyone know except that he can say what interests him most. The followers of Father Feeney in Boston are young; Tanglewood attracts the young who can fight through the night on why Handel's "Water Music" is ruined by most orchestras; at Jimmy Ryans, youth listens to Dixieland Jazz and says it is music; in the M.R.A., youth is on a permanent religious revival.

No controversies! If one is young, there is never a moment without one. The real trouble is that the adult generation has grown too old and too tired and it turns to the comic strip which was originally done for children, while the children know exactly what E. equals MC square means.

It's The Agonizing Waiting

ADA Gives Unexpected Boost To Nixon Candidacy

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Vice President Nixon's chances of becoming the Republican presidential nominee if Ike doesn't run have been given a notable assist from an unexpected quarter—the "Americans for Democratic Action."

Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national chairman for the organization, has come out with a piece of advice to the Republicans—namely, "to drop Richard Nixon." The main argument seems to be that the "independent voter" will not accept Nixon. By "independent voter," of course, the ADA spokesman means the radical and socialist groups in America which the ADA has been trying for several years to increase but which still constitute a small minority as contrasted with the overwhelming majority of non-radical groups.

May Be GOP Opportunity
It was from ADA that Adlai Stevenson in 1952 drew many of the prominent advisers for his campaign, and it is the ADA which Governor Harriman of New York is reported to be ready to ditch as a signal to the conservative Democrats and the anti-Communist Democrats that he will neither be "soft on communism," as the Truman regime was accused of being, nor become an addict of state-socialism schemes.

Mr. Rauh in his pronouncement says the conservative Republicans are trying "to clean up" Vice President Nixon. There is no explanation of what he means by this. It might be interpreted in various ways. But if it has any reference to the famous episode of the campaign fund which caused such excitement in the midst of the 1952 campaign, it might turn out that this would furnish the opportunity some Republicans have been longing for—namely, to bring to public attention the details of the two campaign funds which Stevenson mentioned in 1952 but never explained and the names of the contributors which he never made public.

But Mr. Rauh goes on to intimate that it is the vigorous campaign which Nixon waged while a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities that constitutes the real reason why he is being so violently attacked by so many of the so-called "liberals." Rauh declared that Nixon conducted a "gutter and huckster" campaign for the vice presidency in 1952 and got into the Senate "by conducting one of the most infamous smear campaigns in American political history."

Thorn In Side Of ADA

By "smear campaign," of course, is meant Nixon's discussion of the anti-Communist issue, which the ADA chairman in a statement only a few weeks ago seemed to think has since subsided.

Nixon has been a thorn in the side of the ADA as well as many Democratic leaders because he helped to expose Alger Hiss as a perjurer. This appears to be an unforgivable crime so far as the radicals are concerned. It was Nixon, too, who did not hesitate to

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Got to stake Mr. Truman to unlimited credit for opening the duck season to political questioning.

Harry said if he lived in New York he'd be for Harriman sure as eggs will crack. But if he lived in Illinois he would be as uncertain as a boy in a candy shop.

First thing Harry knows the FBI will be dogging him for transporting double-talk across a state line.

Picking the raisins out of the rice pudding indicates Harry has cooled off Adlai Stevenson. We don't know who Harry is for when he is in Missouri. But we'll bet Harry can't breathe on him without fogging up his shaving mirror.

A good politician like Harry gives out with an answer that makes a reporter wonder what question he asked.

But like Grover Cleveland we love him for the enemies he has made. And the enemies even better.

Backache's Cause May Be Prostate Infection

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Low backache in men may be due to infection of the prostate gland (prostatitis). In the circumstances exercise, back supports, and all the tape in the world will not help because they do not strike at the cause.

The prostate is situated at the opening of the bladder and completely surrounds the tube (urethra) that leads to the outside. It is part of the reproduction system but when the gland becomes diseased, most symptoms suggest urinary tract disturbances. Enlargement renders the passage of urine difficult; infection causes pelvic pain and a variety of bladder and kidney manifestations.

Chronic prostatitis usually develops so slowly the victim cannot recall when it began. Low backache and fatigue are most troublesome. Lack of pep and loss of usual ambition both at work and at play are noted. Loss of sex desire also may take place.

Backache is worse in the morning upon arising. It improves after moving about and is likely to disappear by noon. As the gland enlarges, there is a tendency to urinate more frequently and sleep may be interrupted because of this urge.

Diagnosis is made through microscopic examination of the prostatic secretions. The gland is honeycombed with passageways and does not drain well by itself. For this reason the congested structure must be massaged to express the retained, infected secretions. Many treatments are required before swelling subsides and spontaneous drainage from the deep portion of the gland occurs.

Heat in the form of sitz baths, diathermy, and warm rectal irrigations is useful. Changes in diet seldom are necessary although highly spiced foods, condiments, and alcohol are undesirable because they irritate the urinary tract.

Rest is more helpful than exercise because it minimizes pelvic congestion. Improvements in general health are important also. Many physicians search for the source of infection by investigating the tonsils, sinuses, and teeth. The wonder drugs may be useful when the causative bacteria are known.

If the trichomonas organism is found it may be necessary to treat the wife as well as the husband. This is recommended, particularly when the infection persists or has a tendency to recur.

Jealous Rivals Hinder Sen. Kefauver But He Has Courage And Know-How

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson is writing a series of analyses of the various presidential candidates in what is shaping up as the hottest election campaign in years. Last week he analyzed Gov. Harriman of New York and was the first to report Harry Truman's friendly support for Harriman. Today he analyzes Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.)

WASHINGTON — An Eastern newspaper editor phoned me recently to ask why Estes Kefauver of Tennessee was not popular with his Senate colleagues and why he didn't receive more support from the Democratic king-maker when obviously he had a tremendous following with the voting public.

The answer to the first question is professional jealousy. About 48 of the 96 senators consider themselves potential candidates for president or vice president and none wants to help build up a rival.

The situation is best illustrated by what went on behind the scenes when Kefauver probed the dynamite-laden Dixon-Yates power contract. In the first place, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, himself a dark-horse candidate, laid down the law to Senator Kilgore of West Virginia, chairman of the judiciary committee, that Kefauver must not be chairman of a Judiciary subcommittee to probe monopolies. Otherwise, Johnson warned, Kilgore's committee would get no funds.

Obviously Johnson did not want the gangling senator from Tennessee getting headlines as a monopoly investigator. Kefauver has been fighting big business and monopoly ever since he was a member of the House Small Business committee. He had thrown the spotlight on General Motors favoritism inside the Defense Department back in 1953 and even helped force the cancellation of some General Motors contracts.

Despite that, Lyndon Johnson just didn't want Kefauver in a key chairmanship.

Later, Kefauver managed to get hold of another subcommittee to investigate Dixon-Yates. Whereupon an amazing thing happened. Kilgore wrote an official letter to Kefauver laying down strict orders that he was not to probe Dixon-Yates for more than two days.

In brief, jealous senators did not want Kefauver getting headlines even though he did much of the pioneer battling against Dixon-Yates when other senators thought he was chasing a will-o'-the-wisp.

Finally Kefauver got friends to work on Kilgore and the two-day restriction against probing Dixon-Yates was changed.

Whether other senators like Kefauver or not, there is one important fact that has to be taken into consideration regarding his capabilities as a candidate. He has a rare combination of courage, political know-how, and a Davy Crockett flair for the dramatic.

Some senators have great courage, but don't get re-elected. Some have no courage, but do get re-elected. Kefauver has had the courage to stand up and fight for unpopular issues when he was almost alone; yet he has had the political know-how to get re-elected.

This is all-important in sizing up any candidate. For a President of the United States must have courage. He must also know how to get elected.

Kefauver, for instance, was the only Southern congressman who had the courage to vote for the Negro on the tough test of cloture—namely, cutting off debate on race questions. He was one of only two or three senators who saw the danger of Harold Talbot's appointment as secretary of the Air Force and delivered a long speech against his confirmation. Talbot's later resignation proved that the Tennesseean was right.

Kefauver was one of only five or six senators to stand up on the Senate floor and oppose the special resolution giving Eisenhower power to go to war and even drop the atom bomb over Quemoy and Matsu. It took real guts to do this. The House had steam-rolled the resolution through in record time. Potent Senator George of Georgia clamored for immediate passage.

But Kefauver defied George, calmly debated the resolution, led the attack against it. Time has since indicated the incident was a tempest in a teapot.

Kefauver was also the only senator willing to ask embarrassing, penetrating questions of Federal Communications Chairman George McConaughy—questions that developed McConaughy's connection with the Bell Telephone Company.

Today, one year later, the Bell System's contracts and influence inside the administration has become about the hottest issue in Washington.

Kefauver also was one of the first senators to crack down on his colleague, Joe McCarthy—dating back even to 1946 when he helped expose McCarthy's phony charges against American servicemen for allegedly torturing the SS men, Nazis responsible for the Malmedy massacre.

Battles like these require more courage than is present in the average senator. But they do not endear him to his colleagues.

Big City Crime Probe

What makes Democratic king-makers bitter against the long, tall senator from Tennessee is that he focused his crime probe on the big Democratic strongholds of Chicago, New York, Kansas City, shortly before the 1952 election. This, they claim, helped Kefauver, but played right into the hands of the Republicans. It also brought the defeat of Democratic Senate Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois.

Lucas was so sore that, once, finding himself at the same table with Kefauver at a dinner for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, he got up and walked out.

The king-makers were so down on Kefauver in '52 that the Democratic National Committee secretly sent $40,000 to Cook County, Ill., just before the Chicago convention to stop Kefauver's drive for the nomination. This was highly unusual, if not unethical. National committee money is not supposed to be used for or against an candidate in a nomination race.

But in this case it was used to nail the Democrat who had gone into state primary after state primary to roll up the largest number of delegates, but who, thanks to king-maker opposition, was finally forced to step aside in favor of Adlai Stevenson.

Kefauver has some handicaps, which will be dealt with later. But today he is probably the best single vote-getter in the Democratic party and among the first three leading candidates.

A diagnosis of George Humphrey, dark-horse Republican and the most potent influence in the Eisenhower cabinet, will follow shortly.

People... Places... Things

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK—(INS)—There will be an England as long as vaudeville remains alive there. Fred Allen announced to a somewhat startled London press when he arrived there the other day from Dublin.

Fred, who has a brave contempt for the hand that is wont to feed him, said he was alarmed by the virulent spread of TV aerials since he was in England in 1951. Back home the "little man has stopped thinking," Fred mourned. "Life is confined to two or three channels. Standardization is the rule." He was relieved to see British people still queue before music halls.

Having taken care of TV, Fred concluded the American tourist season, perhaps forever, with:

Dangerous Hobby

"People ought to stay at home and mind their own business and we'd avoid wars. You can't get to know anything about the people of a country when you're staying in tourist hotels."

Fred has one of the most dangerous hobbies known to modern mankind: honesty.

Ping Ferry, an official of the Fund for the Republic, which is headed by the perpetually controversial Robert Hutchins, looked for years for the kind of country place he had always dreamed about for himself and the kids. Then, to his astonishment, he found it. It was exactly as it had appeared in his dreams, including the hammock between old trees in the yard.

On the day of taking occupancy, Ping's family raced down to the lower forty, or something, to pick berries. The father of the house went to the ice box for a beer, picked up a magazine and headed for the hammock—just as he had dreamed it.

He stretched out, got the magazine anchored against his stomach, reached for the beer, and had it just to his lips—a moment of fruition beyond most men's hopes.

At that ultimate moment, the rope supporting the head end of the hammock snapped and deposited Ping on his head on the ground below. His neck was broken and though conscious he couldn't call out for help. Had to wait until the happy family returned from their berry picking before a doctor could be called.

I'm sure Princess Margaret is a good girl and kind to her mother and sister. But it seems to me her "intentions," as the squares of some years back might say, make for some of the dullest speculation we've seen in print in years.

Margaret Truman's Available

Why did Peter miss church Sunday? Why did Margaret walk alone in the garden after church? Why did the Queen Mother dust him off with a couple of sherris on the first night he appeared at Clarence House? Why did he use the back door? Who struck John?

Maybe the fellow overslept last Sunday. Maybe Margaret pulled a Garbo for the walk. Maybe he likes sherry. Maybe they were painting the front hall. Maybe John's shiner was self-inflicted. You can never tell. But the London papers and U. S. correspondents there certainly are giving it a good hard try.

Friend of mine has a solution for the whole impasse: Have Captain Townsend marry Margaret Truman.

Dr. John G. Martine, Iowa state psychiatrist, interests himself in a somewhat neglected field: how to dry the eyes of homesick college freshmen. Let the kid select his own clothes, room furnishings, convertibles, subjects, banks, etc., he says. If the child doesn't write to you, he's happy. He/she's achieved a healthy independence and emotional security.

A lot of parents could get very tired of Martine.

McKeldin Declares People Want Federal Road Bill

POINT CLEAR, Ala., Oct. 18 (AP)—The last session of Congress were Maryland's Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin said today the states and year, 101 billion dollar program the American people want Congress to pass a federal highway bill.

And he told the Southern Governors' Conference round table "I believe a clear position taken by us would be a big help to many members of Congress who still may be in doubt."

McKeldin's statements came at a discussion on highways of which he was chairman.

He said the National Governors' Conference last year "left no doubt that we favored some definite federal action toward a substantial interstate highway system."

Congress had three roads bills under study but failed to pass any.

He said the resolution did not, however, say how it proposed raising funds to finance a highway program.

"It is my hope that when the conference of governors meets on Thursday to devise and consider resolutions, we will take a more definite stand on the type of road construction bill we believe the Congress should enact at the coming session," McKeldin said.

Parents Heartbroken As Sons Are Found Murdered

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—Heartbreak replaced anxiety today in two homes in a middle class Chicago neighborhood.

Eleanor Schuessler, 37, sobbed uncontrollably in her new brick bungalow on the Northwest Side.

Seven blocks away, Dorothy Peterson, also 37, collapsed and was put under a physician's care.

The two women are mothers of Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and Anton Schuessler, 11, whose naked, tortured bodies were found this afternoon sprawled in a ditch just outside the city.

"They were my life," said Anton Schuessler, 41, father of John and Anton. "I can't understand it... there is no reason."

The boys were the Schuessler's only children. They both sobbed over and over.

"They were such good boys. How could anyone have done this?" Schuessler, a tailor, operates his own small shop on the North Side.

Clubs To Serve Chicken Barbecue For Homecoming

KEYSER—The Home Economics and Agriculture clubs of Potomac State College will try something new when they jointly sponsor a chicken barbecue at the annual Homecoming festivities on the campus Saturday.

The barbecue will be served on the college farm between 4:30 and 7:30 p. m.

A specialist will be on hand to barbecue the chicken and he will furnish his own type of sauce. With the assistance of the Agriculture boys, the barbecuing will be done in the open oven, a large pit which is being constructed by the boys' organization.

The townspeople of Keyser as well as citizens of the surrounding communities, are privileged to attend. Tickets may be purchased from members of both organization sponsors, or at the Rosemont Restaurant, in Keyser. Special rates for children.

Proceeds from the barbecue will be used to finance the numerous activities of the two clubs during the 1955-56 term.

Completes Training

SWANTON — Lonnie Bray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Umber Bray of RFD 1, Swanton, has completed basic training at Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y. He spent a ten-day leave at home before reporting to Chanute Field, Illinois for further schooling. His family accompanied him to Clarksburg, from where he left by plane.

Meter Receipts Up

KEYSER — Parking meter receipts in Keyser for the week ending last Saturday, were $301.68, according to City Clerk Carl F. Theiss, Junior, who added the previous week's receipts were $293.26.

Announce Birth

SWANTON — Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzwater of RFD 1, announce the birth of a daughter in Garrett County Memorial Hospital on October 1.

Town's Payroll Gets Approval

FROSTBURG — The regular session of the Mayor and City Council was held Monday and approval was given for the semi-monthly payroll.

George Franklin Martens, water and light commissioner, was instructed to attend a meeting of the Christmas Tree Growers Association in Oakland, October 29, in cooperation with the Garrett County Forestry Conservation Board.

Florian Nickel, fire chief, asked permission of John R. Hensley, street commissioner, to use a man to aid in making an annual check of fire plugs in the city.

The council also issued a proclamation for the tenth birthday of the United Nations on October 24.

The group voted to instruct Edward J. Ryan, city attorney, to prepare an ordinance covering the city parking lot on West Mechanic Street, limiting free parking to two hours. Violators will have tickets issued with a fine of $1.

Ryan was also instructed to add to the ordinance that traffic in the parking lot would be one way, the entrance from the alley between Ormond and Mechanic streets and the exit on Mechanic Street.

A special meeting will be held next Monday night to open bids on the paving and blacktopping of Depot Street.

Miss Myers Wed To Ira Bass

WVU Instructor Found Stabbed In Her Home

Murder Touches Off Investigation

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 18 Mrs. Susan Holden, 52-year-old university instructor, was found stabbed to death today at her home.

She had suffered stab wounds—a medical examiner said it apparently was a small knife and none too sharp—of the breast, stomach and face.

Discovery of the body early this morning at the Holden home in the Suncrest section of Morgantown touched off a murder investigation the like of which has not shaken this university city in many years.

Mrs. Holden became the fourth victim in a wave of unsolved murders that began two years ago in Charleston with the slaying of Mrs. Juliet Staunton Clark.

Sheriff Clarence E. Johnson announced that a young Negro window-cleaner who has been employed in the Suncrest section recently had been taken into custody for questioning. The name of the suspect was withheld.

Clad In Night Clothes
Johnson said Mrs. Holden's body, clad in night clothes, was found about 8:30 a. m.

"Entrance was gained through a kitchen window and the house was ransacked throughout," he said. "No weapon has been found as yet. She had been out last night and that, so far as we know, was her last known whereabouts."

Police Chief James Hunter said the body was discovered by two neighbors women of Mrs. Holden's.

"The son of one of them rides to school (the university) with Mrs. Holden," he said, "and when she didn't show up they thought something was wrong."

Chief Hunter said two fingerprint men were working at the Holden home today and others were searching the house and yard for the murder weapon.

Hunter said the investigation was just getting under way and there were no concrete leads or clues as yet.

"We're just checking for everything that we can find," he added. The sheriff said it had been established that Mrs. Holden dined with friends. Her husband, John H. Holden, a chemical engineer with the U. S. Bureau of Mines stationed in Morgantown, was on a business trip in Alabama at the time of the slaying.

Holden was notified of his wife's death and authorities said he was on his way north today.

The holds were married in 1952. They have no children. Mrs. Holden, in so far as authorities could establish, was alone when the intruder entered the home.

She had been a member of the West Virginia University staff since 1946. She came here as an English instructor after teaching in Clarksburg Victory High School for the preceding five years.

Mrs. Holden had been a teacher for 30 years, starting in Kingwood High School in 1924. She was a native of Kingwood, daughter of a prominent political figure in the 1920's, the late Sam Montgomery. Her father served as a state senator.

Mrs. Holden would have been 53 years old next Nov. 7.

Dr. M. L. Hobbs of West Virginia University, who viewed the body, was quoted that the murder weapon probably was not a large knife and probably not too sharp. Sheriff Johnson said Dr. Hobbs probably would be called upon to do a post mortem on the body.

Although the home was ransacked, it was not immediately established whether anything had been taken. Investigators were at a loss in fixing a motive for the crime.

The list of unsolved West Virginia crimes includes the wife of a prominent dentist at Clarksburg and her part-time maid as other victims.

Mrs. Frances Laughlin, 44, and Mrs. Joan Bland, alone at the Laughlin home at the time, were found shot to death last April. Mrs. Bland had been bound hand and foot with a venetian blind cord.

Frostburg Rotarians Hear Miss Sherman

River Dredging To Be Finished In Three Weeks

Piedmont Mayor Submits Report

PIEDMONT — Mayor Rodney Baker announced at a meeting of the Mayor and Council Monday night that it will take approximately three weeks to complete dredging of the Potomac River.

Mayor Baker said that $548.72 has already been expended for the flood control project, and the remaining work will cost another $180. In addition to these costs, the sewer at the lower end of Water Street will have to be repaired at a cost of several hundred dollars, and necessary repairs to the flood walls will run considerable more, Mayor Baker said.

The Piedmont Woman's Club has volunteered to conduct a fund raising drive to help pay for the project. The town has already received $656 toward the project.

Mayor Baker said dredging the river will lower the channel three or four feet and a number of trees along the side of the flood wall have been cut down so that debris will not lodge against them.

Sunday and Monday nights, October 30 and 31, have been designated as "Trick or Treat Nights" by the Council. The town officials ask that treats be given to the youngsters only on the nights suggested as the children have been carrying the program for too long a period and are becoming annoying to the people.

Mayor Baker reported that the men collecting garbage have been instructed not to pick up any garbage at any place where there is not a garbage card displayed. The mayor warned that persons found putting garbage on another person's property will be tried and fined.

A total of 307 persons have secured garbage cards for the third quarter.

It was ordered that new headlights be placed on the Tri-Towns Fire Company truck, the work to be done at Reeves Auto Parts. The council also ordered that the work on the streets having holes in them be patched.

Mayor Baker reported that employees of the street department have begun work of cleaning up the tract of land recently purchased from Western Maryland Railway Company. It will be used for a parking lot.

Mineral County Jurors Shiver

The October term of the Mineral County Circuit Court opened yesterday morning in Keyser on a "cold note."

Following the opening, jurors began to complain of the temperature in the court room. It seems that a new heating system is being installed at the Court House, and yesterday's chilly weather in Keyser kept the court room cold throughout the morning.

Judge Ernest A. See presided. Cases to be heard include a drunken driving count, bad check charges, breaking and entering and an assault case.

Selling out, reduced prices, grocery stock, refrigerator, cooler, and scales. Apply at Shoemakers Grocery, 54 Walnut Street, Graham Town. Adv.—N-T Oct. 19-20-21

Council Talks About Traffic

KEYSER—At the semi-monthly meeting of Keyser City Council with Mayor John C. Freeland Tuesday afternoon, only routine business was transacted.

However, the mayor and councilmen discussed probable changes in traffic, considered from the standpoint of better traffic conditions with a betterment in transit on North Water Street.

The Water Street traffic is bad north of Center for two-way traffic and consideration was given to thought of correcting it. One suggestion considered, was to make Water Street one way, south from Center to Newton Street, leaving the stretch from Center to Armstrong for a one way traffic lane south.

Traffic northbound can use North Main to Center and thence to Water Street.

Sharpless street traffic situation was discussed and a suggestion is under consideration for providing one way traffic south and parking only on one side of the street.

Center street would be two way from Main to Water Streets.

No action is contemplated on this program at the present time.

Colts Sell 48,000 Tickets For Sunday Tilt With Redskins

BALTIMORE, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts announced tonight they have sold 48,000 tickets for Sunday's National Football League game here with the Washington Redskins.

Memorial Stadium will seat 52,600, including 2,000 temporary bleacher seats, for the contest.

If all seats are sold, it will be the biggest crowd to see a professional football game in Baltimore, but not the biggest football crowd.

Navy and Notre Dame drew a bigger game several years before Baltimore's old stadium was torn down to make room for its present modern plant.

Boston Celtics Win

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 18 (AP)—Bob Cousy sparked a fourth period rally tonight as the Boston Celtics came from behind to defeat and take a 3-2 lead in games in their pre-season National Basketball Assn. exhibition tour.

Cousy scored four points and set up three field goals by Bill Sharman as the Celtics overtook the Royals.

Cousy, a former Holy Cross star, led the Celtics with 21 points.

Rochester's Jack Twyman topped all scorers with 28 points.

Four 10-Year Men

CLEVELAND (AP)—The National Football League champion Cleveland Browns have four players who have been with the team 10 years. They are Otto Graham, Frank Gatski, Lou Groza and Dante Lavelli. Horace Gillam ranks next in point of service under Paul Brown. This is his ninth season with the team.

KINER SIGNS AS GM—Former National League home run king Ralph Kiner, 32, (seated) signs a one-year contract as general manager of Pacific Coast League's San Diego club, at a reported salary of $25,000. His highest player pay was $30,000 with Pittsburgh in 1952. James B. Lane, president of fish packing company which owns club, stands behind Kiner. ## SPORT SLANTS

Must Set Age Limit Harry Ducked In Time
New Coach Gets Jolt No Aces This Year?

By C. V. BURNS

JOE SNYDER, sports columnist of the Hagerstown Herald, hints that something apparently will have to be done about the maximum age variances which exist in the different states before the reorganized Cumberland Valley Athletic League football race gets under way in 1956.

In Maryland, if a boy is 18 before September 1 he can participate in athletics that year. However, if he turns 18 during a particular season he is allowed to finish out that sport but then is ineligible.

Virginia rules permit a boy to play until he passes the age of 19½ years.

Front Royal, which plays Fort Hill squad, has five 19-year-olds on its team, according to Snyder.

Maryland, West Virginia and Virginia schools will make up the revised C.V.A.L. next year.

FAIRMONT West's forfeiture of five of its 1955 victories because a reserve back, Glenn Burks, who had transferred from Dunbar High School, was overage, was most unfortunate and came as a stunning blow to Coach William H. Kerr, who took over as head mentor of the Polar Bears this year following the resignation of Paul "Biz" Dawson.

The Bears were rated No. 1 in the state prior to the disqualification.

Local fans will recall the Sid Weinbach case at Allegany High School in 1946. The Campers were going like a house afire and Weinbach, a clever southpaw, was winning game after game until it leaked out that Sid had played pro ball at York, Pa.

Allegany with a 9-1 record had the title wrapped up and Weinbach owned a 7-0 record.

The seven wins were tossed out, Allegany wound up with a 2-8 mark and Chambliss was declared the league champion with nine wins and one loss.

It was a bitter pill for the Campers to swallow just as it was for the Polar Bears in the Burlington case.

WHEN Westminster's Owls trimmed Frederick Friday night (32-0) it marked the first meeting of these schools in football since 1951 when relations were severed following a riot.

The Owls, slated to play Fort Hill at Westminster, Nov. 4, have beaten Gettysburg, 13-12, and Frederick, lost to Waynesboro, Pa., 29-13, Hagerstown 34-7, Bel Air, 12-0, and tied Delone Catholic, 0-0.

ELKINS High School's Tigers, who provide the opposition for Allegany here November 4, are undefeated but tied twice to date.

The Randolph Countians tied Morgantown High (13-13), the only team to decision Fort Hill this season, and Fairmont East 13-13. Wins have been scored over Belington, Victory and Roosevelt-Wilson High of Clarksburg and Buckhannon.

WALTER HAIGHT, Washington turf writer, reports that Bull Moose, now in his 20th year, is still on the farm near Charles Town and has been blind for several years.

Bull Moose is the sire of Belle Moose, the 9-year-old mare that dropped dead on the track in front of the grandstand after winning a race at Fairgo three years ago.

TO LOCAL FOOTBALL FAN who called:

Army was undefeated and tied once in 1944, 1945 and 1946 when Davis and Blanchard played for the Cadets.

The West Pointers beat Notre Dame 59-0, 48-0 and the 1946 game ended in a scoreless tie. Navy lost by scores of 23-7, 32-13 and 21-18.

Army won 27 and tied one during those three seasons.

HARRY BENEMAN, the North Mechanic street furniture tycoon, recalls the days he was a reporter on the old Daily News and was the author of a boxing story that displaced Harry Greb, the "Pittsburgh Windmill," who later became the middleweight champion of the world.

Greb and his manager, James "Red" Mason, came into the office, then on Baltimore street, looking for the "guy who wrote up the fight."

Beneman explained that he was at the ringside and the way he wrote it was the way he saw it.

Greb picked up a heavy metal paperweight and hurled it at Beneman, who ducked, and the missile sailed through the open window and landed on Baltimore street.

The News office in those days was located opposite Rosenbaum's.

Mason finally persuaded Greb to leave the office but Beneman admits that his chief concern at the moment was the safety of pedestrians on Baltimore street. Luckily, no one was struck by the heavy metal object.

WHEN Fort Hill plays at Fort Royal, Va., October 28 it will mark the Sentinels' 100th game since Bill Hahn took over the grid reins at the Greenway Avenue school in 1942.

Bill's batting average for 98 games to date (81-11-6) is .880.

SOMEBODY had better get on the ball at the Cumberland Country Club because the golf season is drawing to a close and not a single hole-in-one has been scored this year.

Thirteen aces were chalked up at the CCC layout in the past three years and 1952 was the banner season with a total of five.

JOHN GRIFFIN, one-time mayor of Gay street, boxer, baseball pitcher, basketball player, taxicab driver, etc., and now a member of the Akron police force, was here over the weekend to visit his mother.

Griffin is eligible for retirement next year.

In his youth John was one of the most unusual boxers around here because he did his roadwork on a motorcycle.

L. B. "DAZZY" VANCE has resigned as golf pro at the Preston Country Club near Kingwood, W. Va., after serving there for three years.

He plans to operate his own course in the southern part of the state.

Ralph Kiner Is Named GM At San Diego

Former Pirate Gets Release From Tribe

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 18 (AP)—Former National League home run king Ralph Kiner, 32, was named general manager of the Pacific Coast League's San Diego Padres today.

He obtained his release as a player from the Cleveland Indians to take the front office job.

Kiner, who hit 369 homers in his 10 years in the majors, with Pittsburgh, the Chicago Cubs and Cleveland, was hired by the San Diego club's new owner, the Westgate-California Tuna Packing Co.

Kiner, who led or shared the National League lead in home runs from 1946 to 1952, had his biggest year in 1949. He hit 54 that year. He reached a top salary with Pittsburgh of $90,000 in 1952.

His contract with San Diego is for one year at a reported salary of $25,000.

Mountaineers Top Nation In Yards Gained

Average Is Now 427, With 193.3 Passing

(By The Associated Press)

For the second straight week West Virginia's powerful Mountaineers led the nation's major college football teams in rolling up points, yardage and advancing through the air.

This versatile offense has given the Mountaineers a 4-0 record and the No. 8 ranking with the select set.

West Virginia has averaged 41.3 points and 427 yards a game in trouncing Richmond, Wake Forest, Virginia Military and William and almost half of the yardage, 193.3, yesterday by the NCAA Service Bureau.

Oklahoma's all-winning Sooners, third ranked nationally, have moved into first place in the running department with an average of 315.3 yards a game on ground plays only. Texas Christian dropped from first to third with its average of 303.4. Boston College, another all-conquering aggregation, is second in rushing with 304.7.

Navy ranks ninth in total offense with a 338.5 average in four games, and is fourth in passing with a 168.3 mark.

Nick Consoles Retains Lead

Wake Forest Back Gains 560 Yards

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 18 (AP)—Wake Forest quarterback Nick Consoles, continuing his relentless march toward a record-breaking Atlantic Coast Conference passing season, had little trouble maintaining his passing and total offense lead despite a 13-13 tie with North Carolina State last Saturday.

Duke's Bob Pascal, after gaining 92 net yards in a 10-14 victory over Ohio State, is the ACC's third different rushing leader in as many weeks.

According to ACC service bureau compilations Pascal set a conference record for most rushes in a single game when he carried 28 times against the Buckeyes. The old record was 22 rushes. Pascal, a 183-pound senior halfback, now has 313 net yards and a 4.7 average. His closest challenger is Virginia's Herb Hartwell with 289 net yards.

Consoles completed 11 of 16 passes against North Carolina State to give him 50 completions in 79 passes for 560 yards and four touchdowns—an unchallenged ACC lead and one of the nation's best passing records. He's lost 96 yards rushing—trapped trying to pass—but still leads the ACC in total offense with 453 net offensive yards. Consoles is just 18 completions shy of the ACC passing record. His closest total offense challengers are Maryland's Frank Tamburello with 367 yards and Dukes' Sonny Jurgensen with 363 yards, 129 of them gained against Ohio State.

Johnstown Officials Will Handle Friday Game Here

Four Named To Work 20th Tilt Between Hubs And Sentinels

Four officials from the Johnstown (Pa.) area will handle the Hagerstown-Fort Hill football game here Friday night, it was announced last night by Coach William P. Hahn of the Sentinels.

John Solic, referee; Mike Bobovsky, head linesman; Richard Baserman, umpire, and Ralph Gillman, field judge, have been named to work the twentieth contest of the series between the schools.

Here's a complete list of the officials assigned to games in this area for the weekend:

Thursday, October 20: Circleville at Petersburg—John Fox, Phil Beall and William Orndorff.

Friday, October 21: Hagerstown at Fort Hill—John Solic, Mike Bobovsky, Richard Baserman and Ralph Gillman.

Moorefield at Keyser—Bobby Cavanaugh, Jim Gaffney and John Blough.

Ridgely at Romney—Bob Pence, Charles Snider and Larry Geiger.

Valley High of Hot Springs, Va., at Franklin—Jim Fahey, William Orndorff and Ray Stevenson.

Saturday, October 22: Mt. Airy Deaf School, Philadelphia, at West Virginia School for Deaf—(Homecoming Game)—John Angellatta, Larry Geiger and Jake Michaels.

Time of games: Petersburg 2:00; Fort Hill 6:00; Keyser 1:30; Romney 1:30; West Virginia Deaf 2:00.

Perlo, Burgee Being Groomed By Jim Tatum

Fullback Hamilton Is Doubtful Starter

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 18 (AP)—Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland is ready to start his second converted halfback at fullback this season against Syracuse Saturday and worked today on his third as a reserve.

Tatum's fullback woes started on the first day of practice when Tom Sele, who had been counted upon since last spring, came up with torn knee ligaments.

Lacking confidence in the defensive abilities of a couple of reserve fullbacks, he switched two sophomores, Fred Hamilton and Phil Perlo, from half to full.

Hamilton improved in each of Maryland's first five games, particularly as a key blocker. But he hurt his shoulder severely last Saturday against North Carolina.

"Trainer Duke Wyre thinks he'll be able to play at Syracuse, but personally I don't," reported Coach Tatum. "His shoulder hurts so much he can't even swing it to run."

So Perlo, like Hamilton only 178 pounds, is listed as Maryland's starting fullback. Being groomed with four days to go as his replacement is Dick Burgee, another 178-pounder from Frederick, Md., who has been a halfback for three seasons.

Terps' Option Play Scars Orange Mentor

Says West Virginia, Maryland About Even

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 18 (AP)—Ben Schwartzwalder, Syracuse football coach, today summed up the Orange practice sessions for the Maryland game here Saturday this way: "We're working on everything."

He said, "We'll have to show a lot of improvement over our showing against Army to beat Maryland." Syracuse upset Army 13-0 last week.

Ben said he believes Maryland rates about even with West Virginia, his alma mater which Syracuse plays in its final game, as the best team in the nation. Maryland was rated second to Michigan in the Associated Press poll this week.

"Don't be fooled by this talk about Maryland being a split team," Schwartzwalder said. "Actually, they use that offense very little. We're more scared of that option play where the halfback either runs or passes. Don't forget that (Ed) Vereb scored two touchdowns and passed for another on that play last week."

Belton Is Named Player Of Week

Dickie Beard Of VPI Is Among Nominees

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 18 (AP)—Dick Belton, Davidson quarterback who has been a sensation with his passing, today was named the Southern Conference's football player of the week.

Belton received the honor in a poll conducted by the Southern Conference Sportswriters Assn.

The Davidson star just edged The Citadel's end Jim Tyson, West Virginia halfback Bobby Moss and Richmond guard David May.

Belton connected for 10 of 13 passes for 208 yards in Davidson's 34-0 victory over Washington and Lee and hit on 13 of 21 against Presbyterian the previous week.

Also nominated were Johnny Popson of Furman, Charlie Laveroy of Virginia Military, Mike Somer of George Washington, Al Grieco of William and Mary and Dickie Beard of Virginia Tech.

Bud Smith To Defend Lightweight Title Against Carter

New Yorker Seeks Crown Fourth Time

15-Round Televised Match Set Tonight In Cincinnati Ring

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18 (AP)—Records show that Jimmy Carter, frequent champion of the lightweight boxers, has been knocked out only once in 98 fights, but Bud Smith, who dethroned him last, expects to do it here tomorrow night.

"Almost had him when I took the title in Boston in June, and sure will get him this time," Smith, a Cincinnati boy, said today. "I'm ready, and eager."

So is Carter, who has been accused of fighting at his best only when the big chips are down. And they are down for the scheduled 15 rounder, because some of the boys say the little New Yorker is slipping.

Both Stopped Once

It was back in 1947 when Carter, with less than two years' experience, was stopped in seven rounds by Charles (Cabe) Lewis. Lewis was quite a fighter in those days. Smith too, has been stopped once. Joe Micelli in five rounds in an overweight match in 1954.

Smith, who has made little money in seven years of professional boxing and 48 bouts, believes his left hook is better than that of the tree-time champion, and that it carries more power.

Pointing to his head today, Carter said:

"That is the way I'm going to whip that Smith fellow."

Carter has a reputation for calmness, patience, and the ability to take advantage of his opponents' mistakes. He said he has studied the motion pictures of the last fight with Smith and saw where he made mistakes.

"There will not be any such mistakes tomorrow night," he declared confidently.

The slender, lithe Carter is free of one worry before he enters the ring. The Cincinnati Boxing Commission agreed that the bout will not be stopped because of excessive bleeding.

Carter Is Bleeder

Carter is a bleeder. He was so badly cut around the eyes and face in the bout with Smith in Boston that it took 20 stitches to close the wounds.

The televised fight is scheduled for 9 p. m. EST.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (INS)—How much does a football victory mean on any given day?

Before Army tackled Syracuse, you could have written your own ticket on the chances of the Orange against the Cadets.

It merely goes to stress the fact that teams can vary widely in strength from game to game.

Apparently the so-called experts had forgotten that the Orange had been coming along, while the Army had shown nothing a week earlier against Michigan.

True, Michigan was and is strong, but not strong enough to run roughshod over the Army if the Cadets had anything.

As Greasy Neale, the old pro coach, put it:

"The Army fumbled nine times in that one, but teams usually don't fumble that much without a shock. We have to give credit to Michigan's vicious tackling for some of the fumbling."

Michigan is rated No. 1 among the country's teams, but Syracuse isn't numbered even among the first ten.

Michigan beat Army. So did Syracuse. Now the question arises which is stronger, Michigan or Syracuse?

Up at West Point, the Cadets who were licked by both Michigan and Syracuse should have a fair idea of the correct answer.

And what is their opinion? Well, it seems the consensus, as relayed by a man who should know, that Army thinks Syracuse is bigger and tougher than Michigan.

Okay. So we asked which would win if meeting tomorrow?—Michigan or Syracuse?

"I'd have to take Michigan," said this expert. "Michigan has more tradition as a winner than Syracuse, and while that may seem to be a ridiculous reason, it will have to suffice."

"I know the Michigan team playing today has nothing in common with the ones of a generation ago, and I can't explain why tradition should make any difference in two teams. But any veteran coach will tell you that the old traditions have a way of seeping into the modern players."

One of the Army coaches told us that Army took a worse physical beating from Syracuse than it did from the brilliant Wolverines.

"The play of both," he said, "was clean but Syracuse was bigger, hit harder and did us more damage."

As for other coaches, the consensus is that Army will be better as it goes along but they fear the worst when a great Navy team starts passing in the annual game.

Rose Bowl Tickets To Sell For $5.99

PASADENA, Calif., Oct. 18 (AP)—Tickets to next New Year's Day Rose Bowl football game will sell at the odd price of $5.99.

This figure is necessary because of a technical ruling by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, says Max Colwell, manager of the Tournament of Roses Assn. He explained:

The association wanted to sell tickets for $6. But the district director of internal revenue advised that there is "no legal method known" to sell a ticket for $6. The closest figure possible is $5.99 or $6.01.

This is because of the tax involved. In the past the association has charged $5 plus 50 cents tax. This year it is adding 50 cents as a contribution to the Olympic Games fund. But with the Olympic contribution included, the closest figure to $6 possible under tax regulations is $5.99.

It's the contention of the Green Bay Packers that the Baltimore Colts beat them to three players in 1955 National Football League draft, namely Fullback Alan Ameche of Wisconsin, Center Dick Szymanski of Notre Dame and "Long Gone" Dupre of Baylor.

Doris Hart, Net Champ, Turns Pro

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 18 (AP)—Doris Hart, national women's tennis champion, announced today she is turning professional.

In a few days, American amateur tennis ranks thus lost leader of players of both sexes. Tony Trabert recently succumbed to the lure of pro money.

Miss Hart will not be a touring pro like Trabert, however. She will become a tennis teacher at the Flamingo Hotel in Miami Beach.

British Golf Team Arrives For Match

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—Britain's 10-man Ryder Cup golf team arrived today for its match with the U.S. professionals at Palm Springs, Calif., Nov. 5-6. Beaten in the international series since 1933, the visitors expressed optimism over the possibility of getting back on the winning path.

"I think we have the best balanced side we ever had," said team Captain Dai Rees, of Wales. "We've been written off so many times, I feel the boys have their backs up and they'll play better this year."

The first time Alan (The Horse) Ameche of the Baltimore Colts carried the ball in a National Football League game he sped 79-yards for a touchdown against the Chicago Bears.

Keeping Up With Hollywood
by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18 (INS)—Betty Grable was surprised when I told her that I knew about the set-up she has with United Artists for six independent pictures. "Did you get the story from them?" she insisted. "Now Betty, you know better than to ask," I said. "Let's just say I have the story. What do you plan to do?" "I have no story yet," she said, "but I am asking that two of the six not be musicals. I would like to make a straight dramatic picture—not heavily dramatic, but perhaps with one or two songs. In 'I Wake Up Screaming,' I only had an incidental song. The same was true in 'The Yank of the R.A.F.' which I made with Tyrone Power. They both made money, too."

I was glad that the Los Angeles judge gave Edward G. Robinson a compliment when it was revealed how much Eddie has contributed to his former daughter-in-law's support. He certainly deserves some words of praise.

Eddie has just signed a new contract to do "Nightmare," and Producer Bill Thomas tells me this is the first Thomas picture since the death of his partner Bill Pine.

It's authored by Cornell Woolrich, who wrote "Rear Window," and it's a suspense story plus all the wonderful music in Bourbon Street in New Orleans. It will be filmed in New Orleans with several name bands, and, of course, you can't be in New Orleans without getting in on the hottest jazz in the world.

"If this keeps us Mike Todd will have a star to every five feet of footage. He's just signed Marlene Dietrich, Frank Sinatra, Red Skelton and George Raft for only one

Horrocks Will Be Speaker
At Boss Night Program

Arthur C. Horrocks, of the public relations department of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, will be the principal speaker at the eighth annual "Boss Night" dinner at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club of Algonquin Chapter, National Secretaries Association on Thursday at 6:30 p.m.

When he was a young man he went west and lived the life of a cowboy in Utah. After two years of this adventurous living he returned to his native Ohio and resumed his education at Baldwin-Wallace and Mount Union Colleges.

He has been connected with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company since 1917 and has held various supervisory positions. He headed the Goodyear educational program which saw 43,000 employees given specialized training.

His work in this unique industrial educational institution became widely known as his students took their places in the nationwide organization, with the result numerous requests for information and counsel poured in to him from all sections of the country.

One of the company's most traveled representatives, he covers 125,000 miles in an average year, filling 150 speaking engagements from coast to coast.

The committee in charge of the event includes Mrs. Mary Kathryn Reed, Mrs. Mary Matthews, Mrs.

Bertie Ranck, Misses Patricia Golden, Dorothy Hillegas, Frances Snoeberger, and Ruth Shaw.

We'd all now be speaking with a British accent. It was like swimming underwater. In milk. Except that there were waves. I wrote this piece on the plane, with the help of a little portable in my lap and a little portable in my hand. It was tough typing. First time I ever spelled my first name with two o's. Still, it's a miracle. We in the cabin were lost—people beyond pulled across the Styx. But the fellow up front was driving down an uncluttered four-lane highway, thanks to the utter marvels of modern communications.

A man sitting across the aisle from me had only one comment after the boy put the plane down at Logan Airport like a feather. He looked at his watch and said, in a most disapproving manner, "five minutes late."

Firemen Demonstrate
Use Of Pneolator

Two city firemen instructed students at Memorial Hospital School of Nursing yesterday in use of the pneolator and the new method of artificial respiration.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker said the instructors were Herman Cunningham and Edward Trost.

The pneolator is a device similar to an inhalator which is used in conjunction with artificial respiration to revive persons in a state of asphyxiation.

The two firemen also demonstrated the back-pressure arm-lift method of artificial respiration that has been approved by the Red Cross.

Religious Revival

The religious revival which has boomed the sale of books and movies with religious themes was bound sooner or later to touch television.

Of course, in a sense, it did years ago, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen giving Milton Berle a bad time of it for some time now. And then there's the Lutheran Synod's "This Is the Life," conceivably the most widely syndicated program of them all.

But this year, it seems to me, the religious motif is stronger than ever. It keeps bobbing up in the regular dramatic programs. Now there is a new program, "Crossroads" (ABC-TV 8:30 p.m. EDT Fridays), which will tell each week the favorite true stories of a rabbi, priest or minister (about which more later).

Then there are the songs. There are three or four religious songs doing the rounds—to name only a few, "He," "Suddenly There's a Valley," "Shifting, Whispering Sands" and "The Bible Tells Me So."

"Faith, hope and charity." "That's the way to live successfully."

"How do I know?" "The Bible tells me so," goes the refrain of the last.

All these songs are big hits. Tin Pan Alley belatedly waking up to the fact that religion sells very well, something the book people found out a long time ago.

Anyhow, religious themes are enormously popular these days. More and more radio shows are adding hymns or Bible readings to the end of their shows—and finding it helps ratings. I believe the renaissance of religious popular songs started with a song called "I Believe."

The experiences of practically everybody—the FBI, various police departments, the newspaper reporters—have been drawn on for TV series; to my knowledge, this is the first time they have drawn on the adventures of the clergy who have had some extraordinary ones. The first of the "Crossroads" series, called "Shadow of God," was about a priest named Father Rickey, who is also an astronomer and professor.

Father Rickey is presented with the problem of trying to clear a young boy who is accused of attempting to bomb a politician into extinction. Father Rickey does this, though it takes him a full year, by resorting to some very ingenious astronomy, of all things. Even as an ordinary whodunit, it was upper class stuff. But I was especially taken with this cleric-turned-detective's spirited defense of his twin roles as scientist and man of the cloth.

"I find no conflict between science and religion," he says.

"Who set the sun and the earth in their courses—science?"

Medicine was big last year and this. Next year, it may be religion.

Card of Thanks

We desire to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many kind and thoughtful letters, cards and flowers which were sent to our family during the recent bereavement. We are especially thankful to the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral and all others who in any manner rendered assistance.

With love and affection,
The Family

We wish to take this means of expressing our heartfelt thanks to all our dear friends and neighbors who did so much to ease the burden of our recent bereavement. The death of our beloved mother, Maude Viola McFarland, was a great loss to our family.

In Memoriam

In memory of my dear father, David M. Short, who was killed 9 years ago today, October 19, 1946.

I miss my Daddy very much, and wish that he was here. My love will grow and grow, with each passing year. Because I will remember him as the dearest Daddy beloved husband and father, I will remember him as the dearest Daddy beloved husband and father.

Sadly missed by his daughter, Barbara Ann Short

Tavern Keeper Wins Acquittal In Court Here

Jury Finds Barber Is Not Guilty

Melvin Barber was found not guilty yesterday of allowing consumption of alcoholic beverages in his Barton tavern after midnight on a recent Saturday by an Allegany County Circuit Court jury which deliberated nearly two hours before reaching its decision.

Barber was accused of having allowed consumption of beer and whisky on his premises at 12:17 a.m. Sunday, September 11, and for a few minutes thereafter.

Prosecuting witnesses in the case were Edward R. Willison and Roy F. Drumm, inspectors for the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners, who testified that they saw both beer and whisky being consumed at Barber's tavern after their arrival there at 12:17 a.m. September 11.

They said Barber's only explanation was that business had not been good and he did not want to discourage his customers.

Some seven witnesses testified in behalf of Barber, whose case was presented by Attorney Gorman E. Getty. The prosecution was handled by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher and his assistant, James S. Getty.

While the jury of eight men and four women on which David Sigel, this city, was serving as foreman began deliberations, a second trial concerning another Barton tavern began. Chief Judge George Henderson was presiding at the second trial as he had been for the first.

Defendants in the second trial are Mrs. George C. Winkler, proprietor of a Barton tavern, and Mrs. Gertrude Custer, who works for her.

Inspectors Willison and Drumm testified that they saw about six persons drinking beer and saw Mrs. Custer sell six beers to another woman after 12:07 a.m. September 11.

Attorney Julius E. Schindler, counsel for the two women, called only one defense witness to the stand before Judge Henderson recessed the case until 9:15 a.m. today. She was Mrs. Hazel Baker of near Westport, who said she bought six beers in the Winkler tavern at 11:50 p.m. September 10 just before leaving.

Ten other prospective defense witnesses were instructed to return to the court at 9:15 a.m. today when the trial resumes. Edna Engle of Frostburg is foreman of the jury of four women and eight men hearing this case.

Mrs. C. A. Askey Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Christina Adela Askey, widow of William H. Askey, 519 Rose Hill Avenue, was dead on arrival at Memorial Hospital last night where she was taken in an ambulance.

She was 73. Mrs. Askey had been under doctor's care. A native of Cumberland, she was born May 30, 1882, and was a daughter of the late William H. and Mary C. (Berg) Hast.

Mrs. Askey was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Verna Boehm, Sierra Madres, Calif.; Mrs. Mary C. Roberts, city; a brother, Merwin Hast, deputy clerk at Allegany County Circuit Court, city; and five grandchildren.

The family requests that flowers be omitted and that contributions be made instead to the Heart Fund. The body is at the Stein Funeral Home.

Cadets Finish 3d In Contest

The Four Cadets, vocal quartet of Fort Hill High School students, finished third among 22 entries in the district Southern States Co-operative talent find contest yesterday at Kingwood, W. Va.

The local singers won $10 and a ribbon, finishing behind a pianist and solo vocalist at the district affair.

The Cadets are George Kalbaugh, second tenor; Darrell Henry, first tenor; David Dawson, baritone; and Jerry Robinette, bass.

The winner of the Kingwood contest will compete later this fall in the cooperative finals at Richmond, Va. Last year's winners at Kingwood were the Dixiecats, a dance band composed of Allegany High School students which later also won the Richmond contest.

Jaycee Board To Meet

The Board of Directors of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Central YMCA, according to Oscar H. Lashley Jr., president.

Prepare For Oratorio

Mrs. Dora Parsons, secretary; Mrs. R. Margaret Hamilton, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Ann Gormer, treasurer and accompanist. The oratorio, now in rehearsal, will be presented at Allegany High School December 5. The Society also plans to present Mozart's "Requiem" next spring.

Fertilizer Meet Slated Next Month

Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent, is planning to attend a conference for fertilizer manufacturers, dealers and salesmen scheduled for November 9 on the University of Maryland College Park campus.

The program, according to Frank L. Bantz Jr., extension soil specialist, will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the new student union building.

Topics to be covered include the effect of liquid fertilizers on the fertilizer industry, nitrogen versus legumes, irrigation effects of snap beans, the effect of cover crops on yield of tobacco, and other up-to-date information on fertilizer research.

Meanwhile, Steger and his assistant, Merritt Pope, together with John H. Carter, Garrett County farm agent, and James A. McHenry, his assistant, are attending the three-day annual extension service conference which opened yesterday at the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore.

Also attending from here are Miss Mary Wise, home demonstration agent, and her assistant, Miss Justine Miller. About 150 Maryland Extension workers will meet in Baltimore for the event.

"Listen Together, Learn Together and Live Together" is the theme of the meeting. Paul E. Miller, director of Extension, Michigan State University, East Lansing, addressed the general session yesterday on "Adjusting to Changing Times."

New Flagpole To Be Erected At Hospital

A new flagpole will be erected on the grounds of Memorial Hospital and a dedication program, with members of two local veterans' organizations participating, is scheduled for Friday morning.

John A. Moberly, hospital superintendent, yesterday said the flag will replace one that has been flying over the institution at the main entrance.

He said the flagpole, which will measure about 39 feet in height, will be located in the area about the steps leading to the hospital from Memorial Avenue.

The pole, according to Moberly, will be placed in a concrete base. Representatives of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, and Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW, are to participate in the ceremony when the colors are raised.

Dr. Eskin Attends Special Course

Dr. Albert C. Eskin, local dentist, has just returned from a two-week course entitled "The Medical Aspects of Radioactive Isotopes and Special Weapons" given at the National Naval Medical Center and National Institution of Health at Bethesda.

Although it was conducted by the Navy, the course also attracted members of the Army and the Air Force as well as Navy personnel. Dr. Eskin, who holds the rank of lieutenant colonel in the Dental Corps, U. S. Army Reserve, was one of five reserve officers from the Second Army area selected to attend.

The course was concerned with the latest advances in atomic medicine and the present treatment of mass casualties in the event of a disaster.

Magistrate Improves

Magistrate for Juvenile Causes Morris Baron is much improved after being ill for the past week with influenza. Juvenile Court attaches said yesterday the magistrate is expected to return to his duties on Monday.

Bishop Outlines Mission Program At Convocation

Nearly 200 Attend Episcopal Meeting

An explanation of some of the objectives of the $6,807.97 Episcopal mission program for the next three years was offered by Rt. Rev. Harry Lee Doll, D.D., new suffragan bishop of the Diocese of Maryland, at the fall meeting of the Convocation of Cumberland at Holy Cross Episcopal Church yesterday.

Some 175 laymen and women and clergymen from 22 Western Maryland churches attended the meeting.

Bishop Doll explained that the mission budget was approved at the recent General Convention of the Episcopal Church in Honolulu. He also spoke briefly about the Philippine Independent Church, with three million members. Its orders have been regulated by the Episcopal Church. He also cited the work of the Episcopal missionaries from the United States and Japan on Okinawa.

Rt. Rev. Noble C. Powell, bishop of the diocese, emphasized in his remarks that freedom and Christianity are inseparable.

Three of the four officers of the convocation were reelected. They are Rev. Charles I. Kratz Jr., rector of St. John's Church, Frostburg, dean; Rev. Luther D. Miller, assistant at All Saints Church, Frederick, vice-dean; Rev. Willard G. Wilson Jr., rector of St. James Church, Westport, treasurer. Rev. David C. Street II, vicar of Holy Cross and St. Philip's here, was elected the new secretary. Rev. Bernard Jennings of Smithsburg was reelected to the executive council of the Diocese of Maryland.

The spring meeting of the convocation will be held at St. Matthew's Church in Oakland, where Rev. John J. Atwell is rector.

The offering contributed at yesterday's Holy Communion service will be sent to Archbishop Mukerjee of the Church of India, Pakistan, Burma and Ceylon for missionary priests of the church in that area.

35 Registered In Bridge Class

Thirty-five persons have registered at the City Recreation Department for the opening session of a beginners class in bridge this evening at the Central YMCA, beginning at 8 o'clock.

The class for the card enthusiasts is being sponsored by the Rec Department and instruction will be given by members of the Western Maryland Duplicate Bridge Club, a member of the National Bridge Association.

Tonight's opening session will be concerned primarily with organization and registration of the class members and the first lesson in bridge play.

Albert D. Heacox, president of the Navy, the course also attracted members of the Army and the Air Force as well as Navy personnel. Dr. Eskin, who holds the rank of lieutenant colonel in the Dental Corps, U. S. Army Reserve, was one of five reserve officers from the Second Army area selected to attend.

Washington Co. Tax Court Motion Loses

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 18 (P)—The Washington County Commissioners today turned down 3-2 a proposal that a county tax review court be set up.

W. Lee Elgin, president of the board, proposed that tax protests be heard by an independent tax court. He argued it would "get the board out of politics" in property assessments.

Montgomery, Prince Georges and Baltimore counties all have tax courts reviewing assessments.

Local Naval Reserve Unit Receives Destroyer Bell

The local Naval Reserve unit now has in its possession a bronze bell which was used during World War I aboard a destroyer named after Capt. John H. Dent, a native of Maryland who was born in 1782.

Lt. Cmdr. Gordon McCrea, commanding officer of the local unit, last night said the bell has been installed in the entrance of the reserve unit on McKaig's Hill.

It is used on drill nights each week and at 7:30 p.m. the bell is sounded with repeated soundings each half hour until 9:30 p.m. This practice, according to Commander McCrea, gives a feeling of the men's being aboard a ship.

The bronze bell is one of five which were used aboard destroyers of World War I and II which bore the names of distinguished Marylanders and are now historic relics. Commander McCrea pointed out that the bell is being loaned to the local unit by the curator of the Navy Department. Captain Dent was serving on the Constellation when he captured the French man-of-war Insurgent in 1799.

He was named midshipman on March 16, 1798 and captain on December 29, 1811. Captain Dent named the Nautilus and Scourge in Preble Squadron and took part in attacks on Sicily in 1804.

The other four bells are in the possession of the Maryland Historical Society, the Peale Museum, the Baltimore County Commissioners and the Maryland Constellation Commission.

Sgt. W. F. Baker To Assist County State's Attorney

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police at LaVale barracks, will assist the State's Attorney's office here during the illness of Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator.

Lilya, who suffered a mild heart attack at his home, 220 Carroll Street, last week, has progressed satisfactorily at Memorial Hospital where he is a patient.

State Police officials said Sgt. Baker's services would be made available to the county until Lilya is able to return to work.

Two Bishops Visit City

Both bishops of the Diocese of Maryland visited Cumberland yesterday for the fall meeting of the Convocation of Cumberland held at Holy Cross Episcopal Church. The two bishops are shown with the vicar of the host church and the dean of the convocation, which embraces 22 Western Maryland Episcopal churches be-

Baptist Group To Elect New Officers Friday

Women's Union Holds Election Tomorrow

Election of officers for the coming year will highlight the Western Baptist Association's 85th annual two-day session at First Baptist Church here tomorrow and Friday.

The election and installation of officers will be conducted at 8 o'clock Friday evening and will be followed by a report of Baptist work in Europe by Dr. C. C. Thomas, general secretary of the Maryland State Mission Board of Baltimore.

Present associational officers are Rev. W. Randolph Keefe, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, moderator; Jesse H. Judy, vice moderator; Logan H. Carpenter, clerk-treasurer; Joseph K. Trenton, chorister; John D. Coleman, superintendent of Western Sunday School Association; and Mrs. James Kirkpatrick, superintendent of Western Women's Mission Union.

Registration Thursday

All delegates and visitors are urged to register at the opening session of the convocation at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Luncheon and supper will be served by the host church on Friday and overnight accommodations will be provided for out-of-town guests and speakers.

Mrs. Leslie Watson, missionary from Whippany, N. J., will deliver the principal addresses during the Thursday evening meeting and the morning, afternoon and evening programs on Friday.

Other guest speakers besides Dr. Thomas and Mrs. Watson will be Rev. L. J. Newton, secretary of Sunday schools and training unions of Maryland; Miss Josephine Norwood, executive secretary, Maryland Woman's Missionary Union; and Mrs. Virgie Hoffa, executive secretary, Baptist Children's Aid Society, all of Baltimore.

Friday's session will get under way at 9:45 a.m. and conclude at noon, reopening again at 2 p.m. and continuing through 5 o'clock. Friday night the program will conclude with a 7:30 meeting.

The Woman's Missionary Union of Western Baptist Association will hold its meeting Thursday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, prior to the association's convention.

Women To Elect

Mrs. Watson will speak at this session also. Election and installation of officers will be held about 4 p.m.

Mrs. Harry P. Clause, state president of the group, will deliver the principal address and Miss Eileen Gaskin, secretary of youth for the state of Maryland, will install newly elected officers of the women's mission.

Rev. Keefe indicated yesterday that all members of the Woman's Missionary Union desiring to stay over for the association's convocation Thursday evening should bring box lunches.

The Western Baptist Association is composed of all Baptist churches in Allegany and Garrett counties and is one of six associations of the Southern Baptist Convention in Maryland.

Warning Light To Be Used At Busy Intersection

A warning light at the corner of Frederick and Decatur Streets, used by East Side firemen when they reported to fires in that section of Cumberland, is being put to use by the Police Department as a safety measure at the much-traveled intersection.

Lt. Raymond R. Johnson, of the police traffic department, yesterday said the flashing light will be in use 24 hours a day in an effort to cut down on traffic mishaps. He pointed out that signs have been placed in the immediate area as well as the blinker light.

Trio Hunters Wounded In Grant County

11-Year-Old Boy Listed Critical

Three West Virginia hunters were shot and wounded, one seriously, Saturday in a pair of hunting mishaps in Grant County Conservation Officer Claude Rice of Keyser reported yesterday.

Marvin Chapman, 11, of Elk Garden, Mineral County, was admitted to Memorial Hospital in Oakland after being wounded in the back of the neck and shoulders by a shotgun blast while hunting with his father in the Terra Firma area of Grant County.

The other two hunters, Kelley Goldstein, 28, and Harman Hagman, 41, both of Cabins, were wounded when accidentally shot by a companion, Emmett Hesse, 39, also of Cabins. Neither, however, required hospitalization.

Rice said the Chapman boy was hunting Saturday morning with his father, Roscoe Chapman, when he was wounded when the elder Chapman accidentally discharged his shotgun.

The boy was taken to Oakland by his father and admitted to the hospital where attaches said last night his condition is "improving."

In the second mishap near Cabins, Hartman suffered wounds of the chin and right leg, and Goldstein, wounds of the right shoulder and forehead when their companion's gun was accidentally discharged.

Both mishaps are under investigation by Grant County Conservation Officer Clarence Shobe of Petersburg, W. Va.

Area Physician Is Chairman Of Planning Group

Dr. Eugene I. Baumgartner, of Oakland, a member of the board of directors and one of the charter members of the American Academy of General Practice, has been named chairman of the scientific program planning committee for the Academy's Eighth Annual Assembly next March in Washington, D. C.

Dr. Baumgartner's zeal in arranging topflight scientific programs for his general practitioner colleagues is recognized in both the Academy and the American Medical Association.

As a member of the Academy's committee on scientific assembly he has been active almost constantly since 1951. After being named that year to the program planning committee, Dr. Baumgartner served three years so efficiently that the board asked him to serve again—his present term to expire next March.

In 1949, according to an article on the Academy, in its publication, "G. P.," he helped organize the Maryland chapter and served as its secretary from that time until 1952. The following year he became its president.

Since 1949, he has been on the board of governors of Garrett County Memorial Hospital and treasurer since 1950. He first served as president of the hospital staff in 1951 and was again elected its president this year.

He attended the University of Maryland where he received both his AB and MD degrees, the latter in 1931. His internship was taken in 1931-32 at Mercy Hospital in Baltimore.

Two Flu Fires Checked Here

Two flu fires were checked by city firemen yesterday.

At 11:55 a.m. South End firemen went to 916 Gay Street while East Side went to 72 Marion Street at 4:47 p.m. No damage was reported in either of the calls.

Insurance Men Conclude State Conclave Here

Sen. Beall Kevnote Speaker At Dinner

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, who recently returned from a trip to Europe, was the keynote speaker last night during the final session of the 19th annual convention of the Maryland Association of Insurance Agents which was held at Ali Ghan Country Club.

He told those in attendance to be on the alert for the government's participation in the insurance business due to an apparent "socialistic" trend in the nation.

Senator Beall pointed out that if the association functions properly private enterprise can "carry the ball" in averting such a trend.

He also discussed the socialism now prevalent in some European countries. Toastmaster at the dinner last night was Brian Kane of Baltimore, chairman of the board.

Convention chairman Robert E. Barnard Jr., this city, presided at the closing session which included a dinner, floor show and dance. A highlight of the final session was installation of new officers by John H. Coppage, deputy insurance commissioner for Maryland.

Barnard said last night that the number of agents who registered for the convention here was the highest ever recorded in the state.

All delegates, he added, were highly pleased with the cooperation and hospitality extended by residents of Cumberland. Barnard remarked that a resolution was passed yesterday afternoon to the effect that the convention this year was the finest ever held in the state.

Host for the conclave was the Allegany-Garrett County Association. Senator Beall is a member of the state association and has been an insurance man for many years.

Next year's convention site, according to Barnard, will be decided at a summer meeting in Ocean City.

Judge Acquits R. H. Newhouse Of Manslaughter

Richard H. Newhouse, 26, was found not guilty of manslaughter in the July 22 death of a South End Republican Club waitress but was convicted of assaulting Clyde Fike, 32, who threw the chair which caused the woman's death.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris, who heard the case in the absence of a jury, announced the verdict. The trial took a day and a half.

Judge Harris summed up the case after outlining what constitutes manslaughter. "I believe that Newhouse provoked the incident by breaking off the two beer bottles and threatening Fike, who threw the chair which struck Mrs. Daisy Priddy (the waitress) and caused her death."

"Nevertheless there was no such chain of events which Newhouse could possibly foresee which would result in Mrs. Priddy being struck by the chair," Judge Harris opined. "The throwing of the chair by Fike in self-defense was a heedless and reckless act," he added.

Fike was found not guilty of manslaughter by Chief Judge George Henderson several months ago on the defendant's plea of self-defense.

"I do find that Newhouse is guilty of assault in connection with his threats and breaking off of the beer bottles and holding the jagged edges towards Fike and stating: 'G—D— you'll cut your guts out,'" Judge Harris said.

In passing a verdict, Judge Harris said he would have to disassociate the tragic and regrettable death of Mrs. Priddy from the assault by Newhouse on Fike.

Newhouse took the stand yesterday and denied he precipitated the argument which culminated in the chair throwing and death of Mrs. Priddy.

Visited Another Place

He said that he told Fike he was having trouble with his father-in-law, Homer Scott, and that Fike suggested that he (Newhouse) "clean up on the father-in-law." The father-in-law was at a tavern near the South End Republican Club (where the fatal incident occurred) and the two men did go to the other establishment.

Newhouse said he talked with his father-in-law but did not start a fight.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Morgan, Orange, Texas, announce the birth of a son October 17. The mother is the former Miss Jean Haentling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Haentling, city. The father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Morgan, also of this city.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Hetzel A. Nealis, Route 1, Ridgeley, a son last night. Mr. and Mrs. James Shroyer, 32 Roberts Street, a son yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Hamilton, RD 4, city, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis W. Moomaw, Ridgeley, a son yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Allard Peterson, Braddock Farms, a son yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Price, Bedford, Pa., a son yesterday.
